DEDICATION

THE class of 1932 wishes to express grateful appreciation to Mrs. Amanda Johnson, who has been the keeper of the light throughout our four years. Mrs. Johnson has had a patient, sympathetic, and understanding interest in all class problems, and whatever success has been won by the class is due to her guidance.

MANY notable deeds have been accomplished in life by individualistic effort. Greater and more sustained accomplishments have been brought to completion, however, by cooperative organizations.

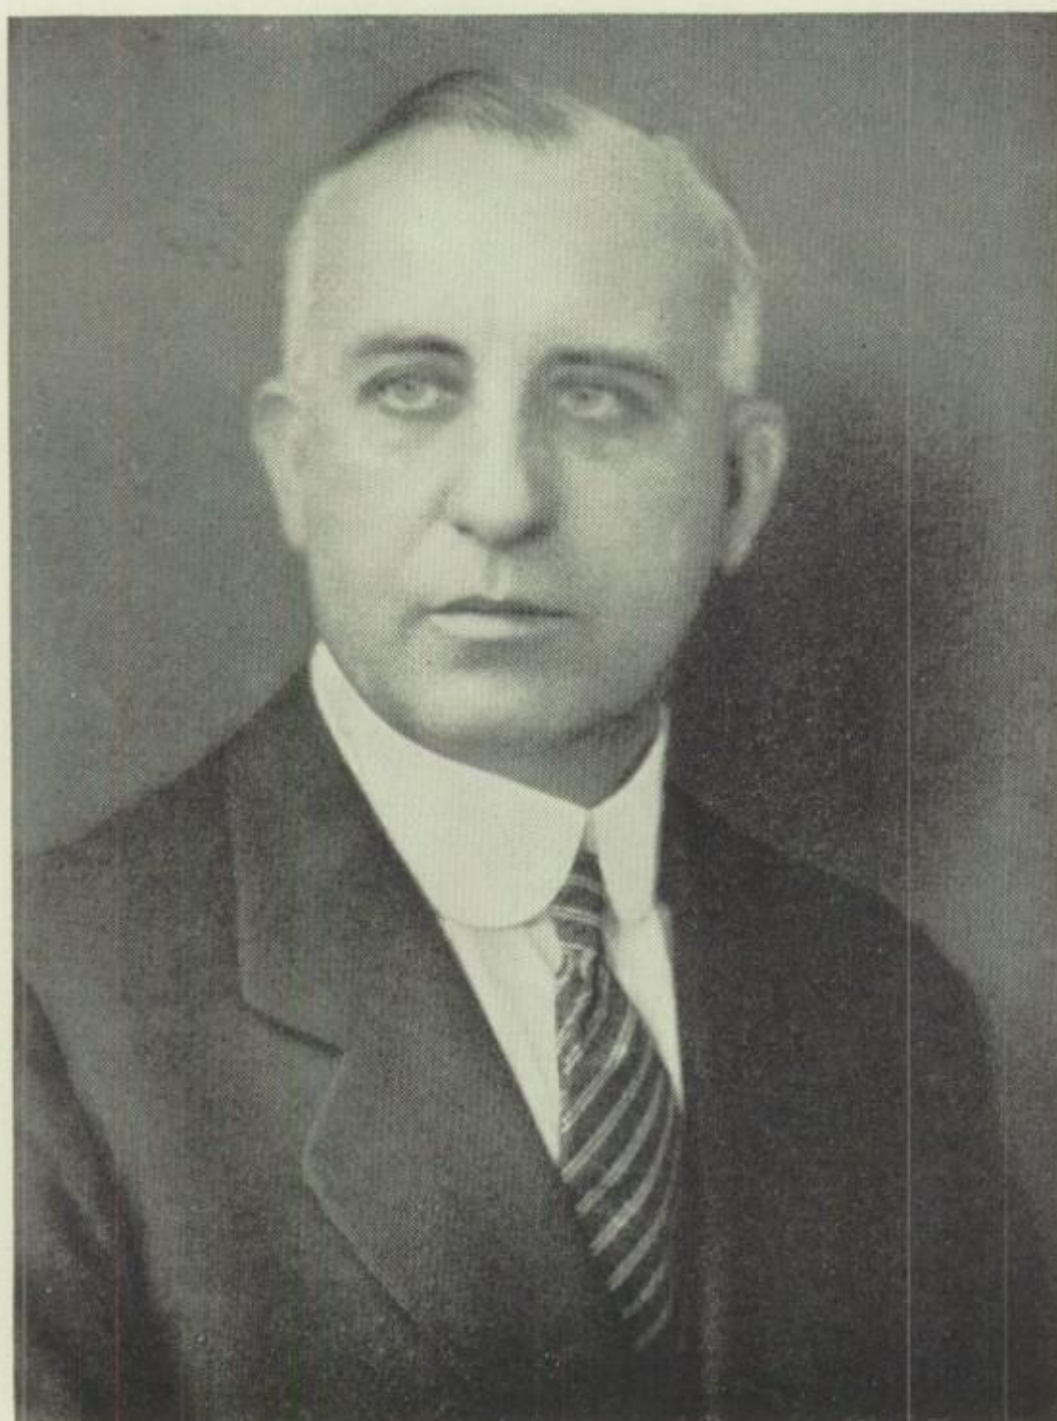

This publication, and the events and achievements it chronicles, are examples of the latter. Herein are listed, not the deeds of stars and super-men, but the records of teams and organizations belonging to Central.

This is the point of emphasis of modern education properly conceived—the necessity and value of team work. Upon this foundation is built our American institutions. It is the essence of good citizenship. Only through its operation can the problems of industry be solved. This, we think, is, in part, the justification of our extra-curricular activities.

May ye who read, be not only entertained, but edified.

JAMES E. MARSHALL, PRINCIPAL

AS a parting word I should like to urge every member of the class of 1932 to cultivate a deep and lasting interest in some field of activity other than the regular daily work, in other words, to have a worthy hobby.

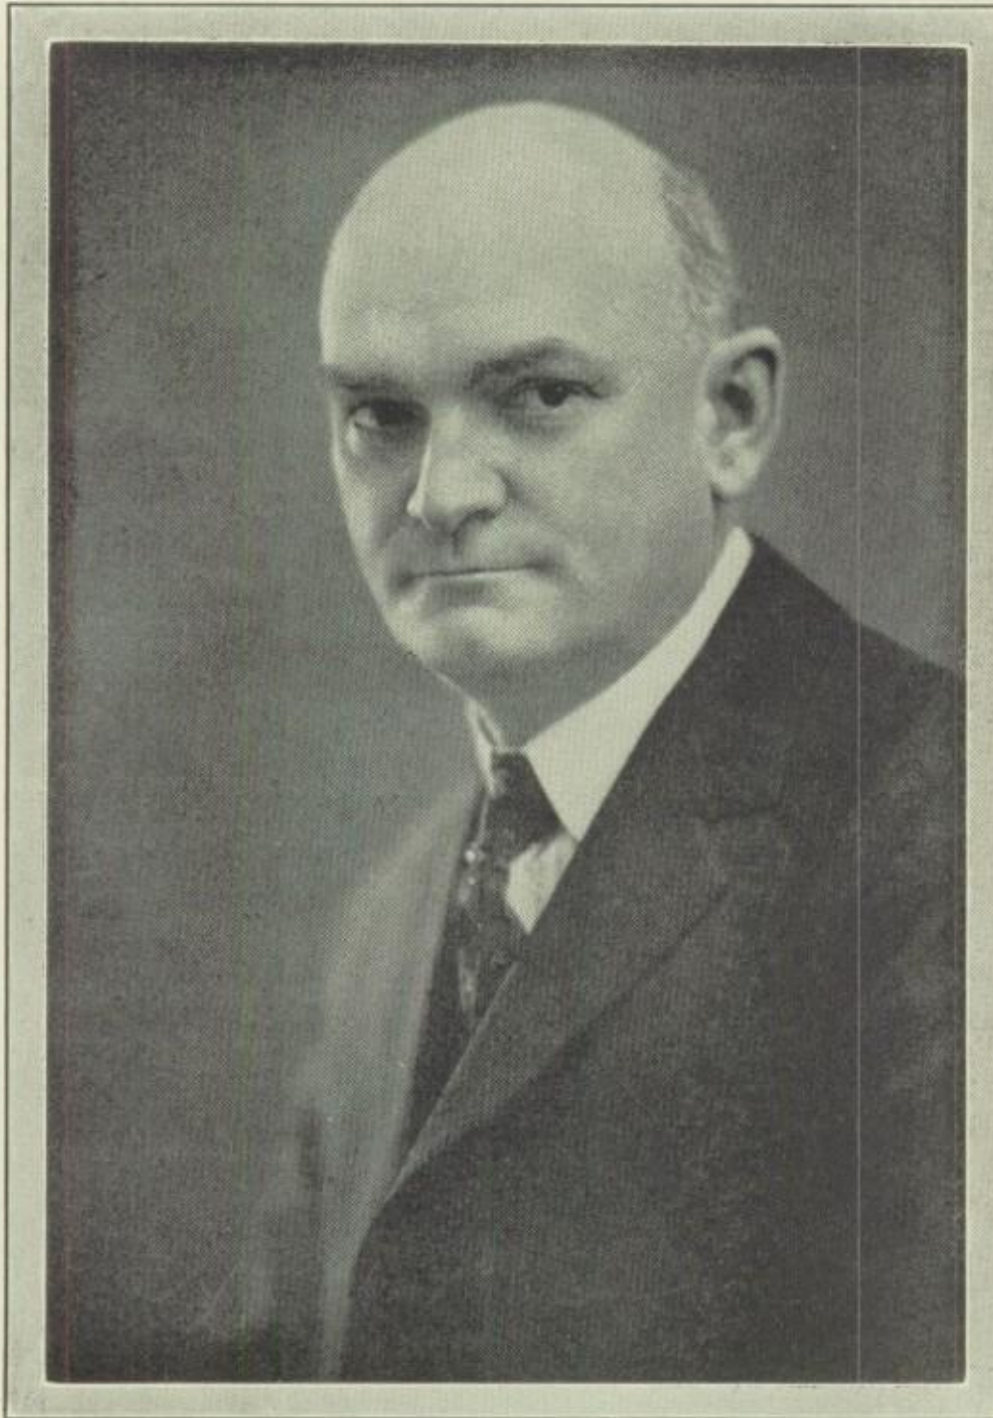

In this day many people have a great deal of leisure time; but even after the present depression has passed and work has been more equitably divided among all people, there will still be more leisure than any previous generation has known.

According to all indications the old proverb, that a certain gentleman of very evil reputation is only too ready to suggest activities for leisure time, still holds good. It is well, therefore, if we can get ahead of this crafty old wretch and fill our leisure with good things of our own choosing.

Such good things for example might be the pursuit of music or of other arts, the study of literature, languages, history, sciences, and countless other fields of knowledge and endeavor.

Oh! The joys and wealth that may be ours in time of leisure!

Valedictorian and Salutatorian

IT is near the close of the high school year, and the spotlight singles out the two most deserving scholars from the group. They are Richard Moore, valedictorian, and Mildred Ritt, salutatorian.

Richard has long been a prominent student at Central, serving as president of his Freshman class. During his junior year Richard was elected to the National Honor Society, the highest honor that can be bestowed on any pupil. His other activities include membership in the Latin Club, the Student Council, the Dramatic Club, and the Historical Society, of which he is president.

Mildred is famous also. She was a noteworthy editor-in-chief of the World, and her short story won third award in the National Short Story Contest. Mildred has also been prose editor of the World and the literary editor of the Times. She was an active member in the Historical Society, the Latin Club, Quill and Scroll, the Debate Club, and the Girl Reserves.

National Honor Society

IN 1925 a chapter of the National Honor Society was organized in our school. Juniors and seniors of good character who have attained high scholastic averages, displayed exceptional leadership, and have been of valuable service to the school are chosen as members of the society.

Through this recognition high standards and scholarship are encouraged, and to those successful in securing a place in the ranks of the organization, much praise and honor is due. Each year an assembly is held to initiate new members, combined with a brief address from former students of distinction.

The advisers of the organization are: Miss Grace Cochran, Mr. William Bush, Miss Althea Diether, Mrs. Amanda Johnson, Miss Irma Meili, and Miss Jennie Wiesenthal.

Achievements

HERE let us pause a moment to reflect in passing on the bright spots of our four years' journey. The piercing lights and fading shadows reveal achievements of those who strove and succeeded in placing our school on a higher level.

Our Student Council has met many new complications and problems with decided success. Our frequent Sunlite Dances, a fine Teachers' Lunch Room, a standard school ring and pin, and Sophomore Honor Medals are recent accomplishments of their efforts.

Many of those who are leaving Central were instigators in the development of the Bird Club, the Literary Club, and the Chess Club. Accomplishments through the various organizations have been many. The Rifle Club and the Debate Club are only two of those who have added to the trophy case. Since our entry into Central, twenty-two new and well-earned additions have been made to the collection through athletic adventure, club initiative, high literary ratings, and personal successes.

Jack Wicks, one of Central's juniors, received the sum of $1,000 for his model coach entered in a Fisher Body Contest.

William Strandberg and Jane Ryan received recognition last summer in the annual contest of the League of Nations associations.

Bountiful reflections on the noble name of Central have been made by alumni who have been named for dean's list honors, Rhodes scholarships, and Phi Beta Kappa keys.

A great number of various other accomplishments have been achieved by men and women who received their high school education at Central.

Judge Sanborn of 1901 was appointed by President Herbert Hoover to fill the position of justice of circuit court of appeals of the eighth district.

Robert E. Olds of '92 was appointed to the Permanent Court of Arbitration at the Hague.

Dr. Walter B. Cannon of '91 received an honorary degree at the Sorbonne in Paris and a medal from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Lieutenant Adrian Shade of '18 supervised the construction of the first all-welded ship in the U. S. Navy.

To the driving spirits behind the foregoing accomplishments, we extend our congratulations.

Bob - well, wouldn't it express me what I want to say is - well - you're a damn good friend

We, the class of 1932, entered in September, 1928, wandering in the gray shadows of dawn, seeing all strange things, and feeling somewhat gloomy at leaving our former schools. A beam of light shone forth and cleared away some of the shadows when Mrs. Johnson was appointed adviser. Light was coming fast as we found ourselves better established and nearing the end of our first year.

Life was truly dazzling as the activities of our last year took place.

The grand finale, Commencement, was ablaze with light. It was the high-point of our four years, shadowed somewhat by the thought of leaving. One event after another occupied the spot light. The lights were dimmed and then they went out. Our day at Central was over. We paused and rested looking forward to another dawn.

J. S. Ball

THE Junior-Senior Ball of 1931 was held last year on May 22 in the school gymnasium. The room was transformed for that night into a picturesque French street scene with glamorous cafes lining the walls. Palms and beautiful multi-colored lighting effects completed the picture. The grand march, which began at nine o'clock, was led by Lois Quast and Richard Donahower, the junior class president. They were followed by Barbara Boeringer and John Donahower, senior class president; Betty Pilcher and Raymond Graham; Rosemary Berg and George Zaun; Florence Keller and John Poore; Winifred Helmes and William Johnson.

The music for the evening was furnished by Lee Blevins and his orchestra. During the intermission John Donahower, senior class president, presented the traditional class knife to Richard Donahower, junior class president. The entertainment for the evening featured Central talent.

Raymond Graham was the general chairman of the ball, and among his aides were: Roy Huber, chairman of the decoration committee; Jean Giere, chairman of the eligibility committee; Ada Johnson, chairman of the distribution committee; Jack Kain, chairman of the entertainment committee; Raymond Williams, chairman of the orchestra committee; Louis Schuldt, chairman of the printing committee; and Evelyn Bashefkin, chairman of the refreshment committee.

Activities

THE spotlight plays upon the numerous clubs of Central, some old and some new. The clubs are as varied in interests as are the tastes of the students. Some are organized for the betterment of the school and some to advance interest in art, science, nature, music, literature, or drama. Each occupies its own important place in our school life, providing avocations for everyone.

First row: Jack Wicks, Miss Irma Meili, Edward Shurick, Barbara Boeringer, Richard Donahower, Miss Pearle Knight, Roy Huber, Miss Mary Bryant, James Francois.
Second row: Lois Quast, June Logan, Edward Litman, Judith Berg, William McMillan, Jeanette Baker, Jack Kain, Betty Jane Peterson, Robert Giere.
Third row: Donald Smith, Marjorie Miller, Robert Lewis, John Nichols, Raymond Graham, Russell Schoch, Thomas Dawson, Virginia McMillan, Ben Williams.
Fourth row: Herbert Golden, Gordon Davis, Ion Morton, John Austin, Philip Soucheray, Beryl Randall, Eugene Corbett, Robert Gurnee, George Putnam.

Student Council

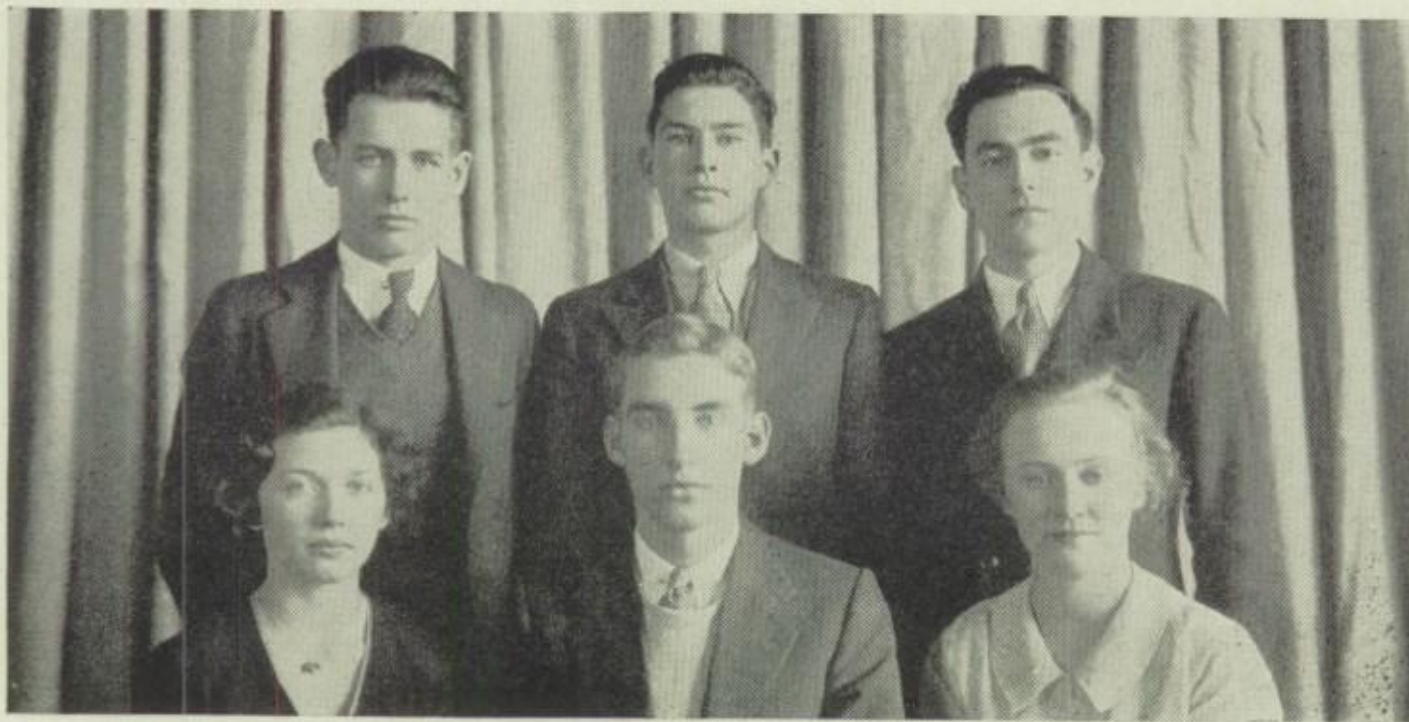

THE STUDENT COUNCIL is the governing body of the organizations of the school. Each year it endeavors to be of as much service as possible to the school in general by taking care of various matters.

This year the Council gave financial support to many clubs. It sponsored the football and basketball teams, the football dinner dance, and installed a telephone on the third floor. It is at present working on plans for the installation of ventilators on the stage of the school auditorium. The Council was influential in having "Slow" signs placed on the corner of Dunlap and Marshall Avenues. The Sunlite dances were also sponsored by the Council again this year.

Richard Donahower

A monthly bulletin is published for the purpose of keeping the student body in touch with the activities of the Council.

*First row: Barbara Boeringer, Richard Donahower, Cecile Carlgren.

Student Council

EACH semester a representative is elected from each enrollment room. At the beginning of each term fifteen of these representatives are elected to serve on the Council for one year keeping the membership at thirty members.

Officers of the Council are nominated by the Council and are elected by the student body at large. This year the officers have been: Richard Donahower, president; Edward Shurick, vice-president; Barbara Boeringer, secretary; William McMillan, treasurer; and Raymond Graham, judge of court.

The committees of the Council are headed by Raymond Graham, student court; Jean Giere, bookstore; Edward Shurick, traffic squad; Judith Berg, limitation of student activities and organization of clubs; William Randall, school improvement; Jean Baker, Sunlite dances; and Betty Peterson, archives. Miss Mary L. Bryant, Miss Irma Meili, and Miss Pearle Knight are faculty advisers.

Raymond Graham

First row: Russell Amundson, Florence Johnson, Darrel Monteith, Edward Shurick, Wallace Erickson, Miss Irma Meili, Mr. Arthur Anderson.
Second row: Gordon Axelson, Mildred Ritt, Edward Stringer, John Poore, Leo Stewart, Evelyn Vernon, Max Perlman.

Traffic Squad

THE Traffic Squad was organized by the Student Council to enforce laws made each year by that body. The members aim to reduce confusion in the halls and on the stairs during the busy periods of the day. To help in this they have placed "Up" and "Down" signs on the front stairways. They regulate parking on the school lot and cooperate with the police department in various matters.

Members of the Traffic Squad are competent students who have some spare time during school hours to give to their duty. The members of the group are appointed by the captain of the squad and by the adviser.

Edward Shurick

This year Edward Shurick has been the able manager of the group with Darrell Monteith as his assistant. Much of the success of the Traffic Squad is due to Miss Irma Meili, the council adviser, and Mr. Arthur Andersen, the faculty adviser.

Bookstore

ONE of the most useful and helpful branches of the Student Council is the Bookstore Committee. This group, organized in 1925, attempts to aid all Central students in purchasing and disposing of used text books. The Bookstore retains a small commission on each book sold through its efforts; thus it is the main source of income of the Student Council, which sponsors it. In addition to the sale of text books, the Bookstore handles the sale of paper and small notebooks.

Each year this group tries to widen its activities and thus help the Student Council and the school in general. The past year has been especially successful, for profits of the bookstore have exceeded those of any other year by a large margin.

The chairman is appointed from the council members. Other members on the committee are chosen from the student body. This year Jean Giere is the chairman.

Jean Giere

Third row: Betty Bushnell, Maybelle Henderson, Peggy Ann White, Charles Weeks, George Zaun, Doris Mitchell, Ruth Neiger, Ruth Waters.

Literary Club

TO promote interest in literary discussion and creative writing is the purpose of the Literary Club. The English department sponsored the organization of this club in the fall of 1930 and chose Miss Carrie I. Castle as the adviser.

Meetings are held every month with one open meeting during the year. Miss Mary J. Newson, a former Central English teacher, was the guest speaker at the open meeting this year. Modern writers were the main topics of discussion at the regular meetings. Written contributions, which were handed in once a month, were read, criticised, and filed. Some of the writings were submitted for publication. The club held a contest this semester for which members contributed poetry, essays, and short stories, the two best papers receiving cash prizes awarded by the English department.

Betty Fleming

The officers are: Elizabeth Fleming, president, Hollis Merrick, vice-president; Jane Ryan, secretary; and Miriam Frishberg, treasurer.

Fourth row: Sidney Kelsey, Florence Smith, Hartlen Kolb, Natalie Krauch, Betty Lenander, Lyman Cummings, Wava Holm, Gertrude Dobberfuhl, Sylvan Tatkin, Helene Borcharding, Philip Clark.

German Club

AMONG Central's many clubs the German Club is the one which holds a great amount of interest for students of German. The club was founded in October, 1925. Meetings are held on the first Tuesday of each month at which outside speakers frequently address the group on subjects of particular interest. The three big social events of this year were a Christmas party held at the home of a member, Solon Goffstein; an open meeting in May, which was dedicated to the memory of Goethe, the great German poet; and the annual picnic which was also held in May.

Tryouts for membership are open to all students who have taken one term of German and received a "C" average. The organization is under the guidance of Miss Nellie Muller.

For the past year Karl Cox has been president; Solon Goffstein, vice-president; Emily Laubscher, secretary; and Jack Simon, treasurer.

Spanish Club

“EL Circulo Castellano” of 1918, or as we know it now, The Spanish Club, has grown rapidly during the past year. The enrollment of sixty-eight members is the largest the club has ever had.

Under the advisership of Mr. J. L. Kuck the club meets twice a month with the intention of familiarizing the members with the Spanish tongue and with the literature and customs of Spain, South America, and other Spanish speaking countries. Membership is open to anyone who has maintained an average of “C” throughout one semester of Spanish. One of the novel features of this year’s program was a gala Spanish fiesta carried out in true Spanish style and held in the latter part of April. Among the features on the program was a typical Spanish dance by Cecile Goldstein.

Latin Club

TO further interest in the Latin language and to give a broader view of the culture and civilization of the Romans is the purpose of the Latin Club. Anyone who is a student in the Latin classes is eligible to try out for the club if he has at least two credits in Latin and a minimum average of "C". The advisers of the club are Miss Florence Baber and Miss Daphne Shaull. Meetings are held once a month.

The programs this year have consisted of initiations, a Roman party, a Virgil program in the form of a play translated from the "Aeneid", talks on Pompeii, a program about Roman women, and a Roman wedding. The annual banquet, the big social event of the year, is held in May.

The officers are Betty Sanders, president; Loane Randall, vice president; Lucella Hartwell, secretary; and Max Perlman, treasurer.

Astrolabe Society

TWO years ago the Astrolabe Society disbanded, but this year it has been reorganized by Mr. Clarence Eastman for the benefit of the students who are interested in astronomy. The object of the club is to stimulate a desire in the members to study the stars and planets.

Meetings are held once a month at which there are round table discussions.

In May the club had a dinner dance at Northfield, Minnesota, and afterward studied the stars through the telescope at Carleton College there. In the future the club seeks to widen its field of activity and promote general interest in the study of the various constellations.

Lawrence Gates

Officers for the first semester were: Lawrence Gates, president; Beryl Clapp, vice-president; Helen Thorne, secretary; and Helen White, treasurer. During the second semester the officers have been: Lawrence Gates, president; Ruth Neiger, vice-president; Margaret Boerner, secretary; and Helen Thorne, treasurer.

Debating Club

THE Debating Club aims to acquire for its members efficiency and practice in debating. This club, which was organized in 1922, is a member of the Minnesota State High School Debating League. Meetings are held regularly each month and consist of discussions on current subjects, impromptu debates, and instruction in technique of debate. Tryouts for the club are held each year.

Each year six members of the club are chosen by Mr. Stanley Watson, debate coach, as the debating team. Mary Lund, Herbert Hamilton, and Edward Shurick composed the affirmative team this year. Helen Rogers, Hartlen Kolb and Earl Bailey composed the negative team. The teams won the district title and tied for the region title with seven other teams in the State League.

Officers for the past year have been: Hartlen Kolb, president; Helen Rogers, vice-president; and Lola Schuelter, secretary.

Triads

THE Triads, an art club under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Stroble, was organized in 1926. The purpose of this organization is to promote a greater appreciation of beauty and a higher standard of finished art work.

Again this year, one of the projects of the club was to design, print, and sell Christmas paper. Linoleum blocks, which were made by each member, were put together in a futuristic design, printed in red and white. The Triads have made all the designs for the May issue of the World, Central's literary magazine. Meetings are held every Tuesday, at which time some phase of art is discussed. The fourth Tuesday of each month is usually set aside for lectures, business, or field trips to an exhibit or a museum.

Betty Erickson

Betty Erickson is president, and Hope Edson is vice-president. Anne Stoffer is secretary, and Norman Polanek is treasurer.

Thumb Tacks

THE Thumb Tacks, an honorary organization of Central has been trying this year to earn enough money to send a deserving student to an art school. The club, which numbers twelve Big Tacks and twelve Little Tacks, holds its meetings twice a month. Miss Minnette Paro is the adviser.

Last semester, each member made a sketchbook in which he placed his drawings and outdoor sketches. About twenty posters have been made by the Thumb Tacks. The group also has charge of the Bulletin Board in the hall. A faculty tea and an exhibition of class work is given in May. At a meeting for invited guests, a talk on "Art in the Commercial Field" will be given by a speaker.

The officers are: Enos Wooding, Big Tack; Bernice Girvin, Tacks' Keeper; Addison Bassford, Palette; Betty Hyde, Highlight; Maree Slattery, Penholder; Lois Jane Helmes, Post Board; Earl Bailey, Paint Box.

Chess Club

THE Chess Club, one of Central's newer clubs, was organized by Mr. R. M. Brockman in 1929. The purpose of the club is to improve the quality of the game of Chess at Central. Mr. Brockman, who has been for years an active member in the Minnesota Chess Association, has aided the members in attaining a high standard of proficiency.

Edward Litman

Two tournaments are held in the club each year, one in the fall and one in the spring. Besides these tournaments the club has competed with other schools of the Twin Cities and now claims the title of Twin City Champion Chess Players. There are fifty-nine members in the club this year, as a result of increased interest in the game. Members may play every day after the sixth period.

The officers for the past year have been: Edward Litman, President; Herman Gordon, Vice-President; Margaret Morgon, Secretary and Treasurer.

First row: Edward Stringer, Russell Schoch, Louis Schuldt, Jack Wicks, Frederick Kuck, Mr. William Bush, Robert Hoppe.
Second row: Arthur Crawford, Goodwin Luck, Walter Bohland, Frederic Trump, Howard Kleinman, Robert Clark, Frank Zoubek.
Third row: John Wheeler, Robert Vigeant, Robert Christofk, Carl Johnson, Kenneth Gormin, Linden Bush.

Rifle Club

ALTHOUGH this organization, the Rifle Club, is one of the newest, it is one of the most active organizations. The club under the direction of Mr. Bush attempts through the teaching of the use of the rifle to develop patience, self-control, and accuracy among the members. Matches are held bi-weekly on the range in the subbasement of the school. In the spring the club members go out to Fort Snelling to practice. The club has thirty members of whom six are girls, girls having been recently admitted.

The club is a member of the National Junior Rifle Association, and the Rifle Team, consisting of the club's best marksmen, won the championship cup in the "C" division of the first series of matches sponsored by the Association.

Officers for the past year have been: Jack Wicks, president; Frederick Kuck, vice-president; and Louis Schuldt, secretary and treasurer.

Third row: Elizabeth Kessler, Norma Polanek, Roger Lundberg, Winnifred Lundgren, Cynthia Chase.
Fourth row: Margaret Putz, Lola Schuelter, Evelyn Jacobson, Hope Edson, Marion Bruss, Beatrice Nelson, Frances Keyworth.

Bird Club

IN order to throw some light on the habits and haunts of the many and varied Minnesota Birds, the Bird Club was organized in 1928 by a group of students under the able direction of Miss Irma Meili. To be admitted, aspirants are required to pass a test including among other things the identification of Minnesota birds. During the winter months, interesting slides are shown and reports on bird life are given by various members of the organization.

Gwendolyn Doran

This year the club has helped to sponsor a National Bird Week, which was from April 11 to April 15. Some members of the club made various attractive posters advocating protection for the birds, while others made useful bird houses. Many things were done to aid preservation of birds.

During the past year Gwendolyn Doran has been president; Helen Borcharding, vice-president; and Lorraine Klienman, secretary.

Radio Club

THE Radio Club was organized to further interest in the radio and other scientific topics. The meetings on Monday evenings are divided equally between scientific and social affairs. The scientific programs consist of visits to local commercial plants or talks on scientific phases of radio by Mr. C. W. Eastman, the capable adviser, and by the various members who specialize in short wave radio.

The project of the club this year has been to build a short wave receiver and a television receiver.

Officers for the scnd term of this year have been: Aaron Zweig, president; Jane Works, vice-president; Paul Thuet, secretary; George McDougall, treasurer, and Gale Libby, chief operator. During the previous term the officers were; Aaron Zweig, president; Antionette Stalley, vice-president; Corrine Lundin, secretary; Glen Noyes, treasurer; and Jack McAllister, chief operator.

Girls' League

THE Girls' League is an organization to which all Central girls are eligible for membership. This club was organized in 1926 to promote cooperation among the girls of the school in every type of service with the endeavor to develop the finest characters and highest ideals.

Betty Anderson

The Big Sister division, under the direction of Mary Jane Atcheson, was greatly enlarged this year. About seventy Big Sisters offered their helpful guidance to new girl students at Central in September and in February. Other projects of the League this year were the purchasing of two articles for the school, a bulletin board for the activities room for use by all Central organizations, and a wall hanging representing the League. The girls conducted the usual sale of Christmas seals, and also a popcorn sale.

Betty Anderson is president this year; Betty Barker, vice-president; Helen Rogers, secretary; and Elsie McManigal, treasurer.

Hi-Y Club

TO create and to maintain throughout the school and the community high standards of Christian character is the purpose of Central's Hi-Y Club. Since its organization in 1924, regular meetings have been held each week at the Y.M.C.A. It is linked with similar clubs throughout the state and country.

Any Central boy is eligible to apply for membership. The club's programs consist of talks and discussions on current events and educational subjects. About once a month a city-wide Hi-Y banquet is held. In addition to this social event, the club averages two parties and two pow-wows a year. The club generally sends delegates to the Older Boys' annual conference.

Officers for the past year have been: Paul Flanagan, president; Gordon Earhuff, vice-president; Warren Bellinger, secretary; and William Wicklow, treasurer. Mr. Frederick Schumaker of the Y.M.C.A. is the able and interested adviser of the group.

Girl Reserves

TO help young girls to adjust themselves in the world and to face life squarely is the purpose of the Girl Reserve organization, which is a branch of the Y.W.C.A. and is affiliated with similar clubs all over the nation. It aims to develop the kind of thinking and the kind of living that will make the girl of today a responsible Christian woman, ready and able to make her country more true to its highest traditions.

All Central girls are eligible for membership, which can be obtained through tryouts in the form of questionnaires. Each Girl Reserve pledges herself to strive to find and to give the best.

Dorothy Undheim

Meetings are held twice a month and follow a definite purpose. "World Fellowship" was the theme of this year's programs; well informed speakers talked to the girls on various foreign countries. Programs devoted to music and poetry also fitted in with the world fellowship theme. A few meetings concerned themselves with girls' problems: Girl Reserve leaders talked on charm, health, personality, and similar topics.

Girl Reserves

AN old-fashioned costume ball was the social event of the year in which the Central girls cooperated with all the Girl Reserves of the city. The other social affairs were a Christmas party, an evening of tobogganing, and a successfully managed card party.

In March a doughnut sale was put on to make money with which to send delegates to the summer camp at Okaboji, Iowa.

"Ready for service" is part of the Girl Reserve code. In Thanksgiving season the club cared for eight families. In the midst of Christmas festivities the girls found time to sew layettes, to gather toys for poor children, to clothe a family, and to spend an evening singing carols at several institutions.

Miss Elfie Brodeen is the adviser of the group. The officers are: president, Dorothy Undhiem; vice-president, Bonnie Jane Berger; secretary, Arline Jorgenson; and treasurer, Florence Huebscher.

Cecile Ryden

Dramatic Club

ONE of the highlights of Central's entertainment program is the Dramatic Club. Under the able guidance of Miss Helen Austin, the founder, it occupies a very important place at Central. The productions of the Dramatic Club are welcomed with great enthusiasm, for the school appreciates Miss Austin's superior knowledge of stage craft.

At one meeting this year, a skit from "Dracula" was given. Several members took part in the Community Chest program. Pilgrims and Indians were portrayed by members in the tableaux at the Thanksgiving assembly, and several people from the club appeared in the Christmas assembly. The big project of the club this year was the play, "When Knighthood was in Flower", with its colorful medieval setting.

Ion Morton

The officers of the first term were: Dorothy Quamme, president; Adeline Putnam, vice-president; and Betty Christofferson, secretary. Those elected for the second term were: Ion Morton, president; Adeline Putnam, vice-president; and Peggy Jackson, secretary.

eehisean

Paint and Patches

A meeting of Paint and Patches is an interesting sight. Each time the members make up a different type of person. At one time it may be a haughty Spanish gentleman with moustache and sideburns, or a dark skinned Chinese with his peculiar slit eyes, or an aged woman with wrinkled face and shaggy eyebrows. These are only a few examples of what is done at the meetings.

Miss Hilda Andersen is the adviser of the club. The members of the club are given an opportunity to display their talents and abilities at the assemblies when they make up the various personages of the cast. They also make up casts for various plays, operettas, and pagents.

This year the Big Mask was Joe Sanderson with Marcia Commack as the Little Mask. Louise Schaeffer was the Keeper of the Daubs and Elizabeth Spindler was the Keeper of the Daubloons.

Fourth row: Florence Keller, Elizabeth Meier, Mary Meen, June Ellis, Alice Leavitt, Jean Leavitt, Louise Merk, Caryl Meyer.

Girls' Glee Club

THE Girls' Glee Club is one of the prominent organizations of the school. The thirty members are carefully chosen each year, and this gives girls of special ability greater experience and more individual training than in large chorus classes.

Under the guidance of Miss Knott, its director, the club has participated in programs for assemblies and other occasions. With the Boys' Glee Club they sang appropriate music for the Thanksgiving tableaux, and dressed in colorful costumes of minstrels, peasants, and carollers, they contributed to the beauty of the Christmas pageant, singing old carols. The Glee Clubs were asked to assist in the Christmas pageant given at the Little Theater, becoming monks and carollers on this occasion. A charming Japanese scene, "The Last Tea of Tsuki" was given by the Girls' Club in an assembly.

Martha Meyer

The officers are: Lewis Miller, president; Martha Meyer, vice-president; Virginia McDaniel, secretary; and Jack Willinger, treasurer.

First row: Robert Lewis, Donald Peterson, Miss Lillian Knott, Lewis Miller, Gordon Earhuff, Leo Abramovitz, Jule Gordon.
Second row: Frank Normandy, Gordon Davis, Eugene Bleecker, Sinclair, Muller, Milton Carr, Gordon Shapiro.
Third row: Joe Reader, Donald McDermott, Philip Soucheray, Jack Simon, Fred Johnson, Sherwood Brady.

The Boys' Glee Club

THE Boys' Glee Club is an organization dedicated to the sole purpose of furthering musical self-expression among the boys at Central. At the beginning of each semester tryouts are held, and those voices which are needed to fill out the groups are selected.

The Glee Clubs alternate with the Dramatic Club each year in staging a major production. Last year "Ermine", or "The Two Vagabonds", was staged, and next year another light opera will be staged. This year the Glee Club was heard in the music assembly, and is also helped with the vocal music in the Thanksgiving and Christmas programs. A one-act operetta, "Cleopatra", was given during the second semester of this year. It was presented at an assembly and for the P. T. A. The club is under the direction of Miss Lillian Knott.

The officers are: Lewis Miller, president; Martha Meyer, vice-president; Virginia McDaniel, secretary; and Jack Willinger treasurer.

Saxophone: Marvin Bloch, Archie Duncan.
Drums: Edwin Hoffman, Norma Stokes.
Piano: Walter Kroepfl.

The Orchestra

CENTRAL'S Orchestra was organized in 1900 and continues to be one of the useful and important organizations of the school. To those interested in ensemble work is given the opportunity of playing the best orchestral music. The organization is under the direction of Miss Lillian Knott, and it is to her that the praise for its success is due.

Robert McClure

This year selections from the works of such great composers as Beethoven, Brahms, Rubinstein, Mendelssohn, Grieg, and Kreisler were studied. The orchestra was given two assemblies and also assisted in presenting the Christmas pageant. It was engaged to play for the Exhibition of the Danish Dancers. Between the acts of "When Knighthood Was in Flower", numbers characterizing the sixteenth century were played. The orchestra usually presents a program at the commencement exercises.

The officers are David Johnson, president; Idell B. Chern, vice-president; Alma Bukofsky, secretary, and Wava Holm, treasurer.

The Band

THE roll of drums, the stirring rhythm of march tempo, the flash of colorful uniforms—it's the Central band! First organized in 1926 with only thirteen members, the band has become under Director Franklyn L. Blume's tutelage a well trained organization, fifty strong, unsurpassed by any other high school band in the Northwest.

Constantly active, the band has succeeded in remaining in the spotlight throughout the year. It added its support to the football team at the games last fall. The regular band assembly, the entertainment of one of the P. T. A. meetings, and the part taken in the Decoration Day program kept its members busy during the year. The crowning event of a successful year was the Sixth Annual Band Concert in May.

The officers for this term are: LeRoy Dickman, president; Dominico Sacco, vice-president; Lucille Dickman, treasurer; Duane Vaughn, secretary; William Mahle, librarian; William Ritt, custodian of uniforms; Everett Waldron, concert master.

Historical Society

THE main purpose of the Historical Society is to act as an incentive to scholarship, and thus it has greatly benefited the school. The society has a complete record of the names and pictures of all alumni and their achievements from 1870 through 1931. Scrapbooks are kept containing newspapers clippings about the various organizations of the school. There are also complete records of the Times, World, and the Cehisean.

Members are chosen through the recommendation of the faculty. Members are chosen entirely on the basis of scholarship. This club is one of the oldest in school, having been organized in 1900 by Miss Mary Newson, a former Central English teacher.

Richard Moore

Richard Moore has been president for the past year with Burnell Carlin as vice-president, Mary Brack as the corresponding secretary, Eleanor Rountry as recording secretary, and Harriet Grein as executive secretary. Miss Clara Boody and Miss Ellen Simon are the advisers.

Tri-Sigma

THE Tri-Sigma is composed of girls who have worked in the library for one semester or longer. The purpose of the club is to acquaint the girls with the forms and methods used in libraries throughout the country. The girls receive valuable training in library practice and sometimes they become interested in library work as a vocation. The girls' aims are service, sincerity, and self-improvement.

Social meetings are held once a month at which times the girls plan for visits to other high school or public libraries or for social affairs for their own group. The programs consist of book reviews, library questionnaires, and many other interesting features. Whenever it is possible, the club purchases new books for the school library.

The officers for the past year have been: Pearl Avrick, president; Hope Edson, vice-president; Ida Avrick, secretary; and Eleanor Lazer, treasurer. The school librarian, Miss Laurie Johnson is the adviser.

World and Quill and Scroll

THE World, which was formerly a monthly magazine but is now issued semi-annually, was published only once this year, the forty-eighth year of its existence. The entire efforts of the staff, under the supervision of Miss Grace N. Elliott, were directed toward making the one issue of the book highly successful.

The World is purely a literary magazine. Most of the of the Journalism classes, which includes Quill and material used by the World is submitted by the members Scroll.

Mildred Ritt

The contents of the book are widely varied. It contains essays, short stories, poetry, and book reviews. The art work was done by the Triads, an art organization under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Stroble. Linoleum blocks were used throughout. The World has received for four successive years an All-American rating from the National Scholastic Press Association.

Mildred Ritt is editor-in-chief, with Maree Slattery as associate editor.

Times

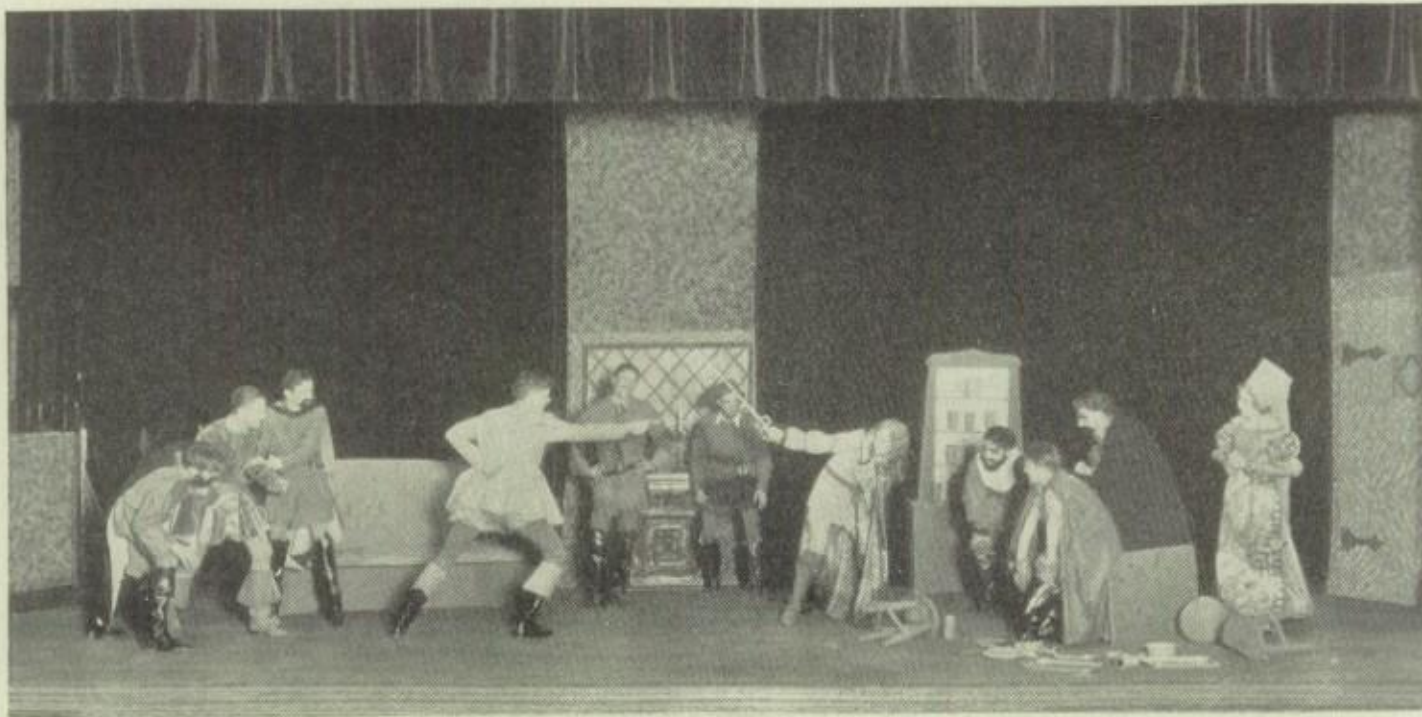

EACH week during the school term the journalism classes, under the direction of Miss Grace N. Elliott, publish the Times as a source of information, enjoyment, reviews, and general summary of the activities carried on in the school.

The paper is a charter member of the National Scholastic Press Association in which it has held the highest honor rating, All American, for seven consecutive years. It is also a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in which it has won the highest award for four consecutive years. It is also a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in which it has won the highest award for four consecutive years.

Arthur Rusterholz was editor-in-chief during the first semester; Russell Schoch, associate editor. For the second term Russell Schoch was made editor-in-chief; Kenneth Gormin, associate editor; Robert McMillan, business manager. Herman Gordon has been circulation manager for the two semesters.

When Knighthood Was in Flower

THE outstanding production of this year was "When Knighthood Was in Flower", a four act play which was presented by the Dramatic Club on April 14 and 15. This delightful romantic comedy was dramatized by Paul Kester from Charles Major's famous novel of the same name. The gorgeous costumes, exquisite stage settings, and sincere acting by the cast lent a realistic glimpse into the court of Henry VIII of England.

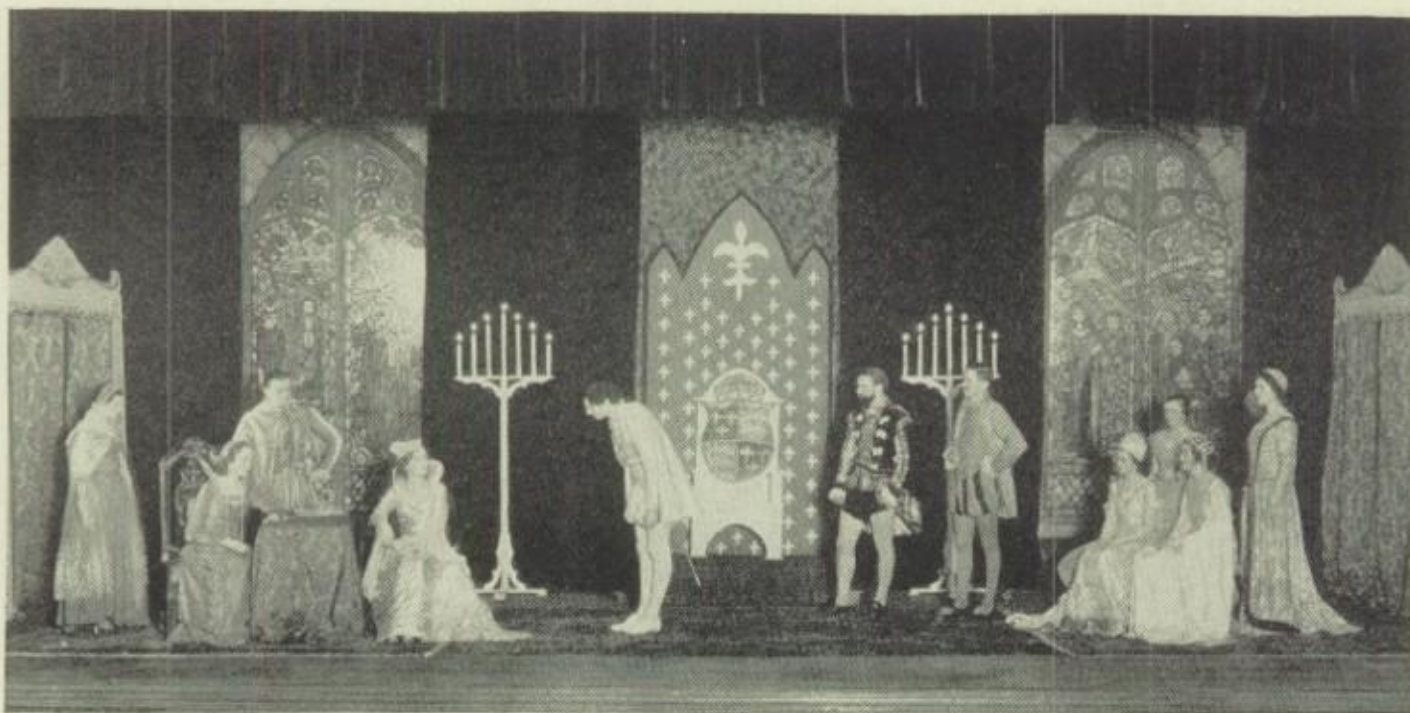

The first act takes place in a room in Windsor Castle. King Henry VIII, who is played by Frank Normandy, attempts to force his sister, Mary Tudor, in the person of Dorothy Quamme, to marry King Louis of France. Mary, however, is in love with Charles Brandon, a captain of the king's guard, played by Frederic Trump. In a duel to protect Mary's honor, Brandon mortally wounds Sir Adam Judson, and he is sent to prison at Newgate. Mary hurls defiance at Henry by saying that she will never become the bride of Louis of France.

In Act II, the scene of which is laid in Mary Tudor's apartment in Bridewell House, Mary learns that Brandon has been sentenced to die. King Henry orders his release only upon condition that Mary promises to wed Louis and that Brandon leave England at once for New Spain. In desperation the two lovers attempt to escape together to New Spain.

Act III is a memorable scene laid in the "Bow and String" Tavern in Bristol. Mary, disguised as a boy, and Brandon arrive there on their daring flight, and a very humorous situation develops. King Henry overtakes them and Mary is forced to go to France to become Louis's bride, while Brandon must go to prison again until the ceremony is over.

In the first scene of Act IV the action shifts to the Court of France. Mary has been married to Louis, but he soon dies. She then finds herself confronted by a more dangerous suitor, the French Dauphin played by Arthur Rowe. Brandon comes upon the scene just in time and proves to be the victor in a duel with the Dauphin.

In the second scene of Act IV the setting again changes to England in the antechamber of Henry VIII's apartments. Brandon and Mary return and announce to Henry that they have been married, the king having given Mary the right to choose her second husband for herself. Henry finally becomes enthusiastic over the marriage, and Mary persuades him to make Brandon Duke of Suffolk.

Among the especially commendable performers by members of the supporting cast were: Peggy Jackson as Lady Jane Bolingbroke, Addison Bassford as Sir Edwin Caskoden, Ian Morton as the Duke of Buckingham, George Zaun as Thomas Woolsey, William Bagley as Will Somers, the jester, Merlyn Green as the Duke de Longville, Charles Weeks as Sir Adam Judson, and Betty Christopherson as the dancer.

Other members of the cast were: Maybelle Henderson, Adeline Putnam, Beatrice Wergedahl, Peggy Ann White, Raymond Graham, Betsy Vohralik, Fred Lemmer, Paul Flannigan, Eugene Dean, John Kennedy, Fred Carlson, John McBean, James Francois, Joseph Simmer, John Lilygren, Edward Koentop, Betty Feist, Betty Sanders, Virginia Rankin, Louise Johnson, Lola Schulter, Frances Freer, Robert Fuller, Sinclair Muller, Thomas Dawson, Hartlin Kolb, Robert Dunlap, Leslie Janes, Herbert Bolden, Dorothy Klepperich, Helen Hertz, Marion Leitch, Loraine Wilson, Esther Harris, Beulah Arnold, and Mary Ann Slattery.

Too great praise cannot be given Miss Helen H. Austin, adviser of the Dramatic Club, for her splendid work in directing this play. The financial affairs were handled by Fred Nyquist, the business manager.

Thanksgiving Assembly

THE Thanksgiving Assembly this year was a series of interesting historical tableaux. It was staged and directed by Miss Helen Austin and Miss Marjorie Dornberg with music supplied by the Glee Club. The comparison of the first and the modern Thanksgiving day was well defined, and the tableaux were beautifully portrayed.

The Christmas Assembly

The Christmas Assembly was a colorful pageant of the development of Christmas customs throughout the ages in various countries. The colorful costumes, the appropriate scenery, and excellent character portrayal made the performance all the more enjoyable. This program was under the direction of Miss Austin, assisted by Miss Dornberg, and pupils of the expression classes participated.

Girls' Glee Club Assembly

"The Last Tea of Tsuki," a musical setting of an old Japanese legend was charmingly presented by the Girls' Glee Club in April. The unusual music was well sung, and the moonlit Japanese garden formed an attractive background for the singers. Solos were sung by Virginia McDaniel, Phyllis Raabe, Martha Meyer, and Leona Scheunemann.

Boys' Glee Club Assembly

"Cleopatra" an operatic burlesque of college life was presented in assembly by the Boys' Glee Club, April 20. This comedy of campus life was much enjoyed by the school. Gordon Davis took the role of Cleopatra, the vamp. Other important parts were taken by Lewis Miller, Donald Peterson, Fred Johnson, and Philip Soucheray.

Stage Force

CENTRAL has an organization which is seldom in the spotlight. The stage force, although it remains in the shadows, is a very important factor in any stage presentation. This year Central has had an exceptionally well-organized force, and a great deal has been accomplished. Sets have been built, platforms have been made, and the lighting system has been fully equipped with new and permanently colored bulbs.

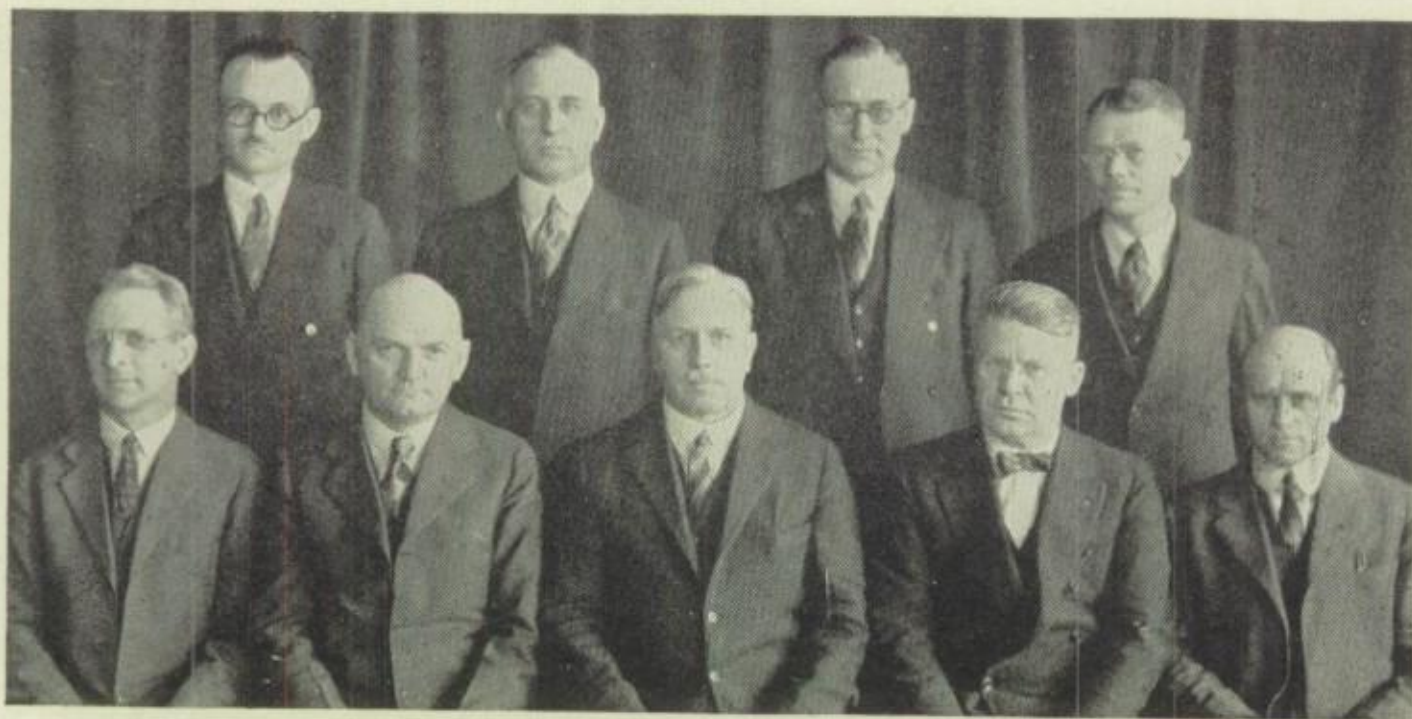

George McDougall

A part of the stage force, called the wardrobe committee, has done many things in the way of improving the property room. The members have made several scrapbooks for Miss Austin, head of the stage force.

Central has had a very efficient stage manager, George McDougall. The electrician, Robert Hanesworth, has made many improvements in the lighting system. He is also assistant stage manager. John McBean, head carpenter, has made platforms and new supports for lights. Peggy Peters is chairman of the wardrobe committee.

Athletic Board of Control

THE Athletic Board of Control is a representative group, the members of which either manage or coach at least one sport. It is made up entirely of members of the faculty.

The duty of the board is to supervise the use of the athletic fund. The members must proceed carefully in order to support all sports with the limited sum of money on hand, the greater part of which is gained from football receipts. This year baseball was again put on the athletic program following a lapse of two years.

The board also directs intramural kittenball and hockey leagues. The intramural hockey league this winter was not conducted as there was not enough outdoor skating.

The officers of the organization are: Bert E. Cooley, president; R. D. Berg, vice-president; Albert G. Meier, secretary; G. C. Christensen, treasurer.

Second row: Thomas Corbett, Albin Anderson, Brace Gurnee, Lloyd Conley, Mr. Frank Galles, coach.
Third row: James Webster, trainer; Everett Kuhn, manager; Simon Frank, asst. manager.

Basketball

COACH GALLES started the basketball season with five veterans: Captain Thomas Dawson, Richard Donahower, Thomas Corbett, Gordon Davis, and Robert Lewis. The other members of the squad were Brace Gurnee, William Wicklow, Robert Branch, Lloyd Conley, Albin Anderson, and Jack Wallace.

The conference schedule opened with Central defeating Washington 30-13. Dawson and Donahower were outstanding. The Minutemen next met Johnson but lost a heartbreaking game 11-8. The team then made easy work of Harding 22-14 and gained another victory the next week with Humboldt as the victim 24-15. Dawson, Corbett, and Donahower played well in the victories.

In the last game of the season the Red and Black met its ancient rival, Mechanics, in the battle for second place. The Trainers won 26-24.

On the All-City selections, Captain Dawson and Donahower were placed at forward and guard respectively.

The lettermen named Thomas Corbett to captain next year's quint.

Class Basketball and "B" Teams

BECAUSE of a late start, only two rounds were played in this year's class basketball race. The championship was won by the Seniors, coached and led by William Wicklow. Their record was four victories and two defeats. The Juniors, coached by Thomas Dawson, and the Sophomore II team, under the direction of Eugene Corbett, finished in a tie for second place. Each team won three and lost three games.

Throughout the tournament two players, Lloyd Conley and Albin Anderson, stood out above the rest. Several brilliant games were turned in by Brace Gurnee, William Wicklow, John Schroeder, and Edward O'Rourke.

For the first time in several years, the "B" team played as an organization, managed and coached by Eugene Corbett. The group played five games against strong competition, winning three and losing two. When the season started, the squad included the following: forwards, Robert Eckhart, Henry Benson, Bert Orenstein, and John Poore; centers, Paul Flanagan and Raymond Graham; guards, Benjamin Storey, Robert Gurnee, and Sig Goldberg. Later two men were added, John Schroeder, guard, and Howard Schultz, forward.

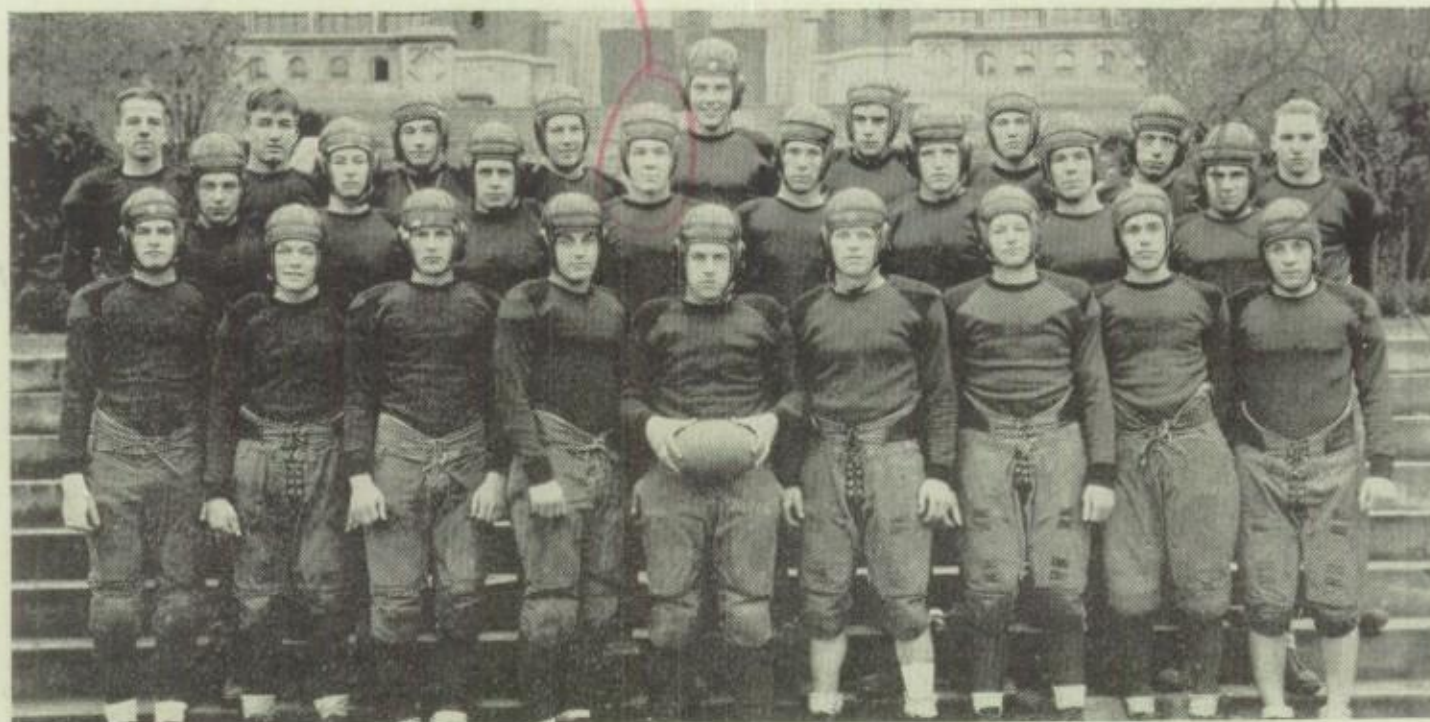

Too much credit cannot be given to these boys who gave their best efforts throughout the season. Playing on the "B" squad meant hard work without any glory.

Football

THE memories of a fighting football team are in the minds of Central's graduating class. The team did not win the championship, but the players gave a good account of themselves in every game.

On the first day of practice, a record number of aspirants greeted Coaches Blume, Buser, and Golden. Only four of these, however, were lettermen. They were Captain James Francois, Robert Lewis, Herbert Golden, and Robert Fuller.

Central played its first game out of town at Mound and was defeated 13-0. The Red and Black showed a lack of practice.

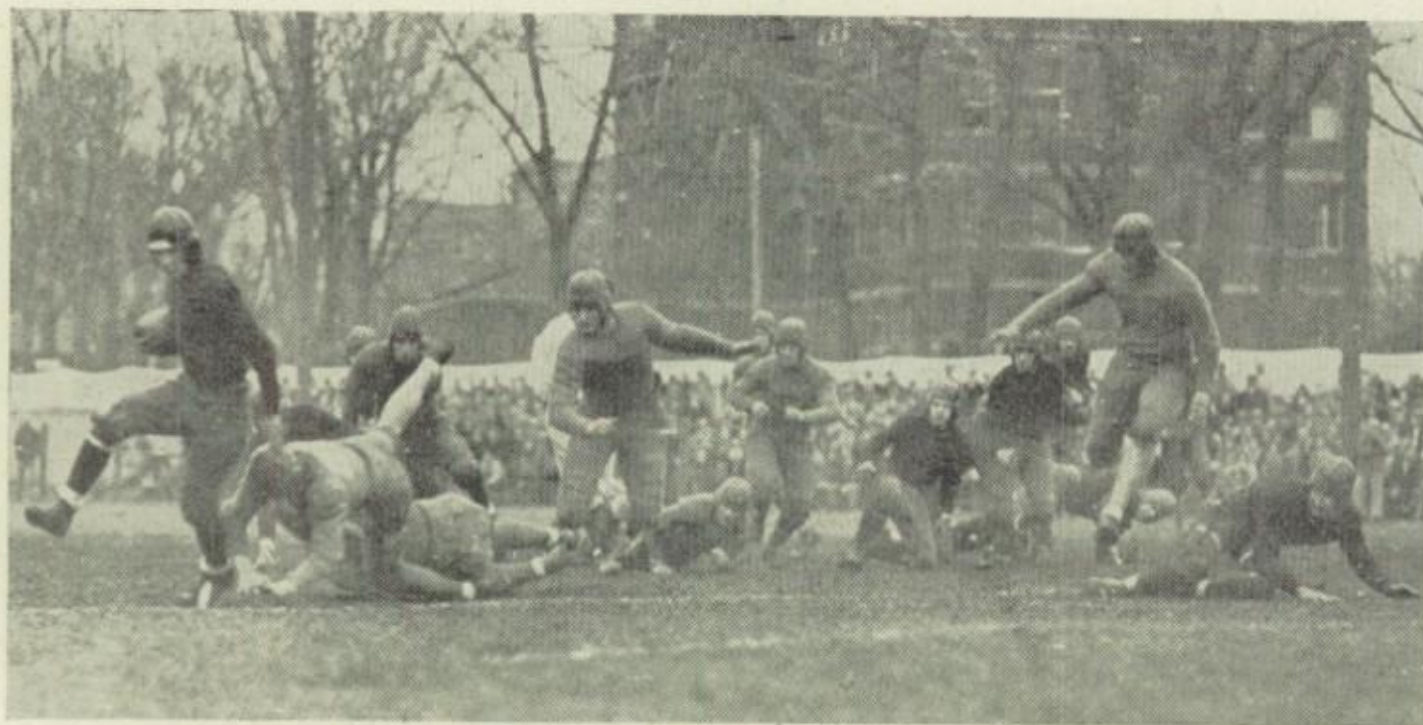

In the first conference game Central clashed with Johnson. The game ended in a 7-7 tie. Central's touchdown was scored on a dash around end by Lewis who then dropkicked the extra point. The following week a greatly improved Red and Black team downed St. Thomas 18-0. Besides playing a strong defensive game, the line led by Captain Francois and Wigginton, paved the way for some fine runs by Lewis, Wallace and Goldberg. Both of these games were played at night.

Central then met Humboldt in the crucial game of the season but was defeated in a last quarter rally by the Humboldt team, 13-7. This clash found Frederick Johnson, Thomas Dawson, and Robert Lewis playing fine games both on offense and defense.

The team then journeyed to White Bear and brought home a 6-0 victory which was featured by strong defensive playing. Eugene Dean scored the touchdown after catching a pass.

With but two days' rest, the Minutemen met the Washington eleven but encountered a 7-0 reverse as the team could not pierce the heavy defense of their opponents.

Football

ON Armistice Day the team clashed with its old rival, Mechanic Arts, on a wet field. The game ended in a scoreless tie, both teams losing several chances to score because of fumbles and the uncertain footing. The running of Lewis and Wallace and the strong defense led by Arthur Bussman's fierce tackling thrilled a large crowd.

Robert Lewis was chosen for a halfback post on the Daily News' All-City team.

At the annual football dinner, Arthur Bussman was chosen as next year's captain.

Hockey

THE hockey team had a successful season, which opened with a 0-0 tie with Humboldt that went four fast and furious overtime periods. Johnson was played and defeated 2-0 in each of two games. Humboldt was again tied 0-0 in four overtime periods. Mechanic Arts, however, was able to overpower the Minutemen both times by the score of 3-0. The Red and Black sextet played White Bear, Cretin, De LaSalle, St. Paul and Blake Academies in practice games, breaking even in the games.

The team was ably coached by Carl Landgren, former captain, and managed by A. D. White of the faculty. The lineup found Captain Everett Hanson, Kenneth Carlson, and John Nichols on the forward line. James Francois and George Wigginton were at the defense posts with Lloyd La-Fontaine in the nets. The Red and Black had many able reserves in the persons of Howard Gray, Saunder Herman, Loane Randall, Robert Kleinman, and James Herman on the forward line with James Wallace filling in at defense. Robert McGiffin took over the nets several times during the season. Captain Everett Hanson received all-city rating in recognition of his great playing throughout the season.

The team is to be led next year by Kenneth Carlson.

Golf Team

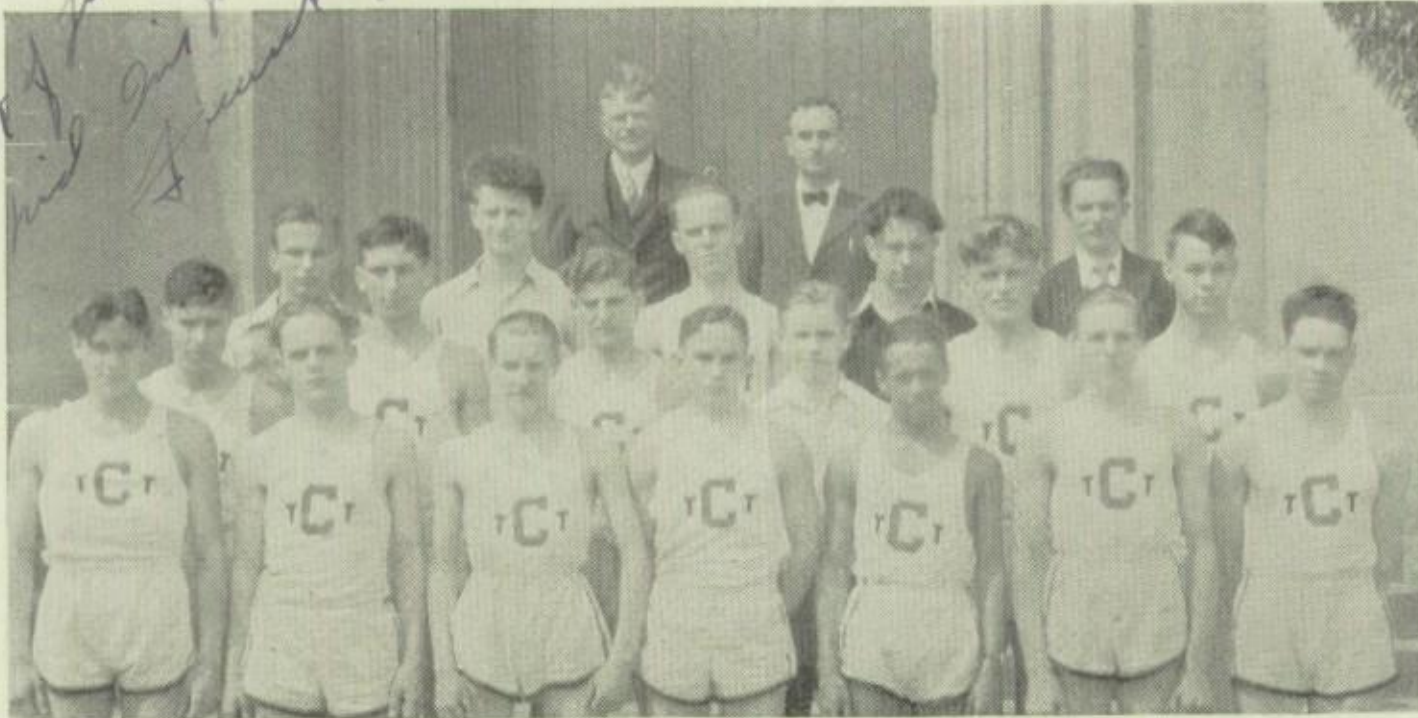

THE best the fairway trodders could do in 1931 was to place second in the golf league. Johnson defeated the Minutemen by five points to four points in a hard fought battle for the championship. The team was defeated in a later match by Humboldt after all championship hopes were lost. Alternates were used during this match. In matches with South St. Paul and University High, Central scored easy victories, but they were set back by the fast stepping team from Shattuck Academy of Faribault in each of its home and home series.

The team, which was coached by Mr. R. D. Berg, consisted of William Meyer playing number one position, Captain Gregory Ritt number two, Leslie Gilbert number three, and James Francois number four. The Red and Black were represented by several alternates including Clayton Peterson, Donald Ruth, and George McDougall.

The team is to be led this season by William Meyer, number one player of last season, who was chosen captain. The only other letterman back is James Francois, but several members of former teams and new stars will make the team very strong.

Track

LAST year Coach Frank Galles's trackmen won another city championship. The team was captained by Gerald Mitchell, veteran hurdler. The team won in the city meet when they piled up fifty-eight points to thirty-eight points for Mechanics Arts with Harding and Johnson bringing up the rear.

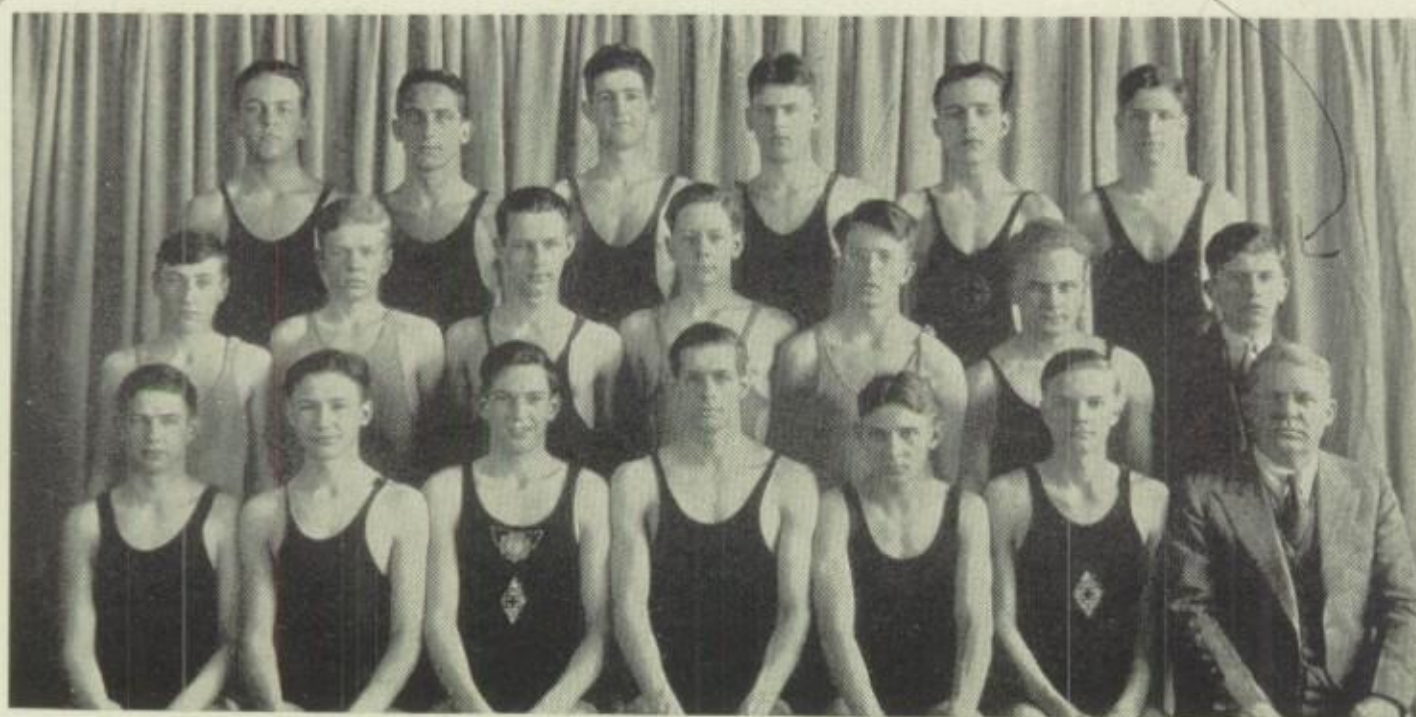

This season's team piloted by Eugene Dean, veteran half miler, is looking toward another championship. In the half-mile relay at the Fourth Annual Indoor Minnesota relays, Central won its third trophy equalling the record set in 1930 of 1:40.

The team was made up of Donald Bonaparte, Eugene Dean, Edwin Harris, veterans, and Wendell Strandberg, a newcomer. The team has many lettermen back, and a wealth of material is out pressing the veterans. Another good season is looked forward to by the Red and Black trackmen.

COACH R. D. Berg's tankmen captured the city title with ease. The team, captained by Austin Sparling, and later by Philip Soucheray, defeated all of the conference teams besides downing Cretin and North High of Minneapolis. Two close decisions were dropped to Macalester College and one to University High School. In rounding out the season, Central won the City Meet making almost twice as many points as its two opponents gathered.

Herbert Hamilton was the high point man of the squad scoring more points than have ever been made by one man in the city conference games. Lloyd Conley, Herbert Hamilton, and Charles Mulally were placed on the All-City team.

The Central water polo team also did well but was finally defeated by Mechanics in a close, hard-fought game which decided the championship.

Tennis

THE Central tennis team won the championship in 1930 as it has done each year since tennis was introduced in St. Paul as a high school sport. The Minutemen, captained by Roy Huber, gained the city title by winning all their matches by a 6-0 score. In addition, the team won the Northwestern Interscholastic and State High School championships. They also played and defeated Blake, St. Paul Academy, Hamline, and Cretin.

The boys who occupied the other positions on the team were all graduates of the school tournament, a fact which made their record more remarkable. They are: Kenneth Moen, Edward Litman, Byron Berry, Harvey Lieberman, and Albin Anderson. Kenneth Moen has been chosen to captain this year's team.

Ion Morton, Jack Kain, Rex Woodard.

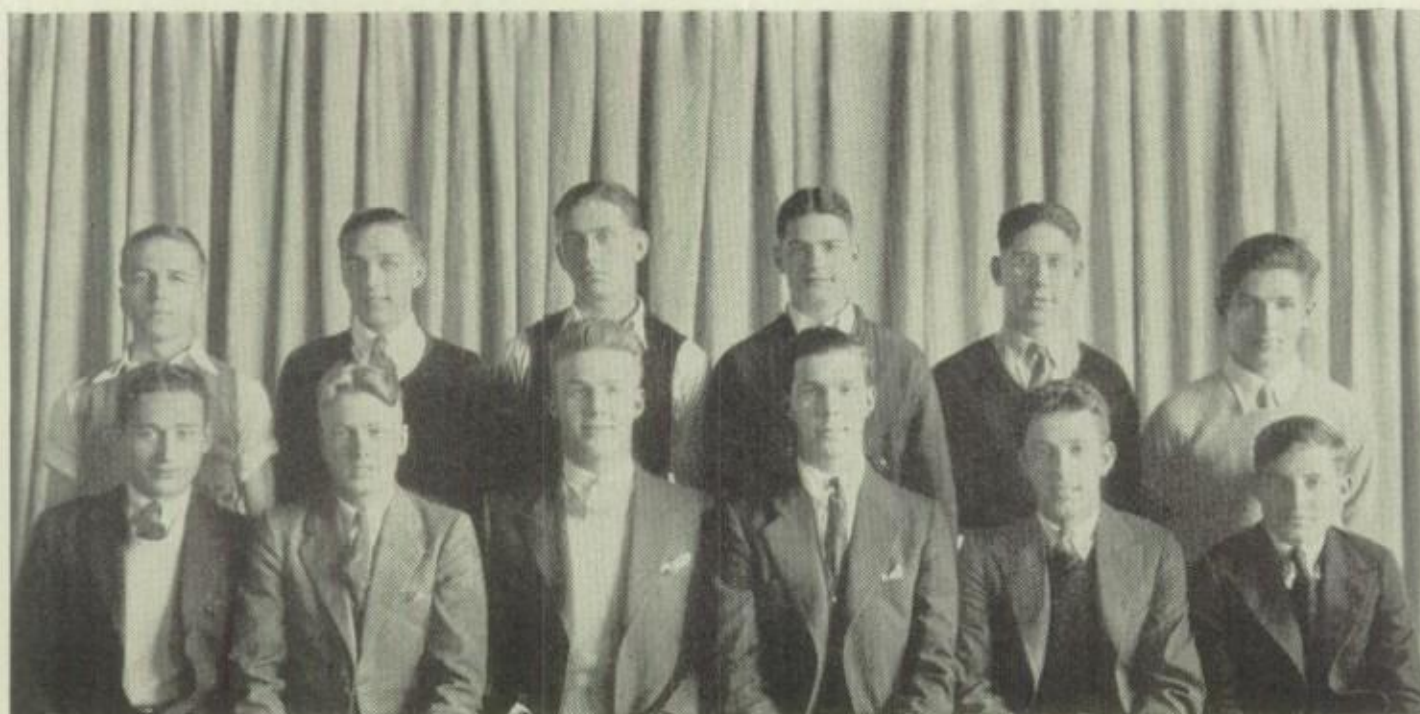

Cheerleaders

THE members of this season's cheering corps are Jack Kain, Rex Woodard, Ion Morton, and Veryl Warfield. This quartet was conspicuous at all football and basketball games and lent their support at the booster and pep assemblies.

Their aid was invaluable to the boys who played on the Red and Black teams.

In their red and black sweaters and white trousers, they were great favorites with the faithful who attended the games.

To Jack Kain, however, goes the credit of being the most colorful and versatile "rooter king" seen in the high school conference in many years. His antics were inspiring and a pleasure to watch.

Intramural Kittenball

IN 1931, the intramural kittenball league was composed of sixteen teams, divided into two sections of eight teams each. In one division, the "Big Ten" walked off with the title aided by the fine pitching of Wilbur Jackson. The second division flag was won handily by the "Trojans" who won their games chiefly through Herman Gozansky's pitching and timely hitting. The "Trojans" then played and defeated the "Big Ten," thereby winning the championship.

The tournament was again supervised by Bret E. Cooley, who had as his assistants, Robert Baker and Aaron Zweig.

This year, because of a ruling which will not permit baseball men to play kittenball, the league will probably be composed of only one division. It will be managed by the same group which so ably handled its destinies last year.

Girls Athletic Association

THE G. A. A. was organized as an incentive to encourage girls to participate in athletics. Since 1912 it has rapidly increased until the membership at present is 350. Due to the addition of a ninth period at Central, the regular monthly meeting has been discontinued, and in its place one big meeting is held each semester. There are at present six G. A. A. classes. Attendance in these is not compulsory.

The sport heads are Jean Beckjord, soccer-ball; Meta Hollender, skating; Frances Keyworth, swimming; Frances Casey, basketball; Peggy Snow, volleyball; Sylvia Smolik, kittenball; June Ellis, tennis; Amy Verrall, hiking; Jane Trygstad, tumbling; Margaret Meacham, fieldball; Colleen Portell, golf; Lois Beyer, horseback riding; and Maxine Berndt, skiing and tobogganing.

Edith Berry is program chairman with Jean Arnold assisting, while Charlotte Beckman and Lucille Ernst are "Times" reporters.

Executive Board and Referees

THE members of the executive board are elected every year at the general election. They meet once every two weeks to discuss the problems of the organization, plan the general meetings, and arrange the methods for running off the sports of the G. A. A.

A group in close conjunction with the executive board is the referees. Their duties consist primarily in aiding the gymnasium instructor in refereeing the many athletic activities. They spend one period a week in refereeing the different sports. Since it is absolutely imperative that these girls be well versed in the rules of the games of which they are in charge, they spend one period in a class gaining this first hand knowledge of such sports as basketball, volley-ball, kitten-ball, tennis, and tumbling under the direction of Miss Ryan, the gymnasium instructor. The referees render an invaluable service to the G. A. A.

Those holding office this year are Geneva Gerischer, president; Elizabeth Meier, vice-president; Betty Seibert, secretary-treasurer, Jean Herschler, recording secretary; and the heads of sports and departments.

Girls' Basketball

AS all girls were interested in basketball, it was the only sport played during the winter. The season began in November and ended in January. There were twenty teams in all, and from that number three were chosen to represent the different classes in the tournament.

The season ended with the juniors as winners of the tournament. Through their excellent team work, they defeated the sophomores 27-9 and the seniors 38-0. The junior team was composed of Meta Hollender, captain; Betty Seibert, Margaret Meacham, and Lois Beyer, forwards; Betty Meier, Jean Arnold, Frances Casey and Edith Berry, guards. The members of the sophomore team were Lucille Harris, captain; Gloria Stevens, Elizabeth Emery, and Gretchen Hauenstein, forwards; Evelyn Graham, Marie Fredstrom, Marguerite Wallers, and Ruth Fry, guards. Those on the senior team were Frances Keyworth, captain; Peggy Snow, Charlotte Beckman, and Esther Verhulst, forwards; Jean Beckjord, Betty Barker, June Ellis, and Marion Mattson, guards.

The girls followed Spaldings rules for women, playing the two division games. The girls played with fairness and enthusiasm during the whole season of this popular sport.

Tumbling

FOR two months this year classes in tumbling and volley-ball were offered to all G. A. A. members. The entire gym was thrown open to accomodate two volley-ball games and six mats of tumbling. Tumbling has steadily become more popular, and the girls are yearly becoming more enthusiastic about this very interesting and health-building sport. Jane Trygstad was the very able tumbling head for this year.

Tumbling tryouts were held the week of April 4, and 30 girls made the Central Tumbling Team. These girls are busily at work preparing for the Spring Physical Education Demonstration. Each girl will perform with single and double stunts, and also form pyramids of different types in groups.

Girls who made their points in tumbling were Jean Brandt, Dorothy Burrow, Katherine Fowler, Marie Fredstrom, Frances Gilbert, Bernice Girvin, Sylvia Goldenberg, Elizabeth Hall, Marjorie Hartman, Eleanor Kain, Hazel Koehn, Mildred Kovec, Florence Long, Mary Lanbert, Dorothy Lewis, Ruth McEvoy, Ethel McGeehan, Lenore McGinnis, Alberta Schroeder, Elsie Seifert, Betty Seibert, Marion Snell, Doris Strane, Jane Trygstad, Joan Zaun, Margaret Meacham, Carol Mitchell, Virginia Martin, and June Mickman.

Swimming

SWIMMING is classified as one of the minor sports as it is not carried on by the G. A. A. classes in school but by the individual girls outside of school. In the fall of each year tryouts are held at which any girl who is a member of G. A. A. may participate. These tryouts have been held for the past few years at the Y.W.C.A. The girls trying out have to have four swims to their credit during this year. In order to make the team they have to do the breast stroke, crawl, side stroke, plain and racing back stroke, plain front and running dive. The girls are tested for surface diving, treading water for one-half minute, and demonstrating artificial resuscitation by the Red Cross method. The judging is on good form rather than on speed.

Swimming has proved to be one of the most healthful as well as one of the most popular sports for girls. No contests are held after the tryouts either between the girls or between schools. Fifty points are given to the girls for fifteen swims, and those who make the team are given twenty-five more points. Additional points are given to girls who obtain their junior or senior life saving awards during the year.

Those who qualified for the team this year were Doris Strane, Betty Rosness, Marian Rosness, Frances Gilbert, Bernice Girvin, Eleanor Kain, Marian Baker, Jane Trygstad, Elaine Garley, Roslyn Stearns, and Gertrude Kowalski.

"C" Club

THE "C" Club had its beginning about twenty years ago when a group of graduates from Central met for a reunion. As most of them had been interested in athletics when they attended Central, they desired to help girls taking athletics, but it was not until 1926 that this group organized the present "C" Club. Membership is made up of girls who have earned "C"s in athletics, and each year the "C" Club gives a banquet for its members. A girl must earn seven hundred-fifty points in her athletic work to win a letter "C". Another five hundred points entitles a girl to her "All-City" letter.

The girls who received their "C"s in May 1932 were Helen Anderson, Jean Arnold, Ida Avrick, Pearl Avrick, Lois Beyer, Edith Berry, Lois Blankenbuhler, Naomi Briggs, Marian Bruss, Frances Casey, Mildred Chernov, Frances Coakley, Betty Dillon, Gwendolyn Doran, Elsie Fligstein, Catherine Fowler, Frances Gilbert, Violet Gilbert, Lucille Harris, Rose Herkovitz, June Hirsch, Meta Hollender, Mary Alice Jenkins, Elizabeth Land, Winifred Lundgren, Ruth McEvoy, Ethel McGeehan, Betty Meier, Dorothy Moran, Margaret Morgan, Charlotte Mueller, Genevieve Nielson, Rogene Night, Vivian Olm, Norma Polanek, Dorothy Pederson, Betty Rosness, Catherine Rosness, Eleanor Rountry, Avis Rumsey, Betty Schroeder, Dorothy Silver, Mary Short, Alice Smith, Sylvia Smolik, Gloria Stevens, Ruth Streed, Jane Trygstad, Esther Verhulst, Gladys Verhulst, Helen White, and Amy Verrall.

The officers for 1931-1932 are Mrs. James McMillan, president; Mrs. Violet Boody, vice-president; Miss Ann Haider, secretary; Miss Helen Nicol, treasurer.

The Nomenclature Robbery

It was one o'clock in the morning. A car turned on to Dale Street er Victoria, I don't know which, and turned West on Marshall. It stopped when it came to Lexington long enough to let out two furtive figures who hastened up to the side of the school.

"Harris the place," one muttered.

"I'll breathe Freer when we're done," replied the other.

"I'm getting Moore scared every minute." The first figure shivered.

"Here's the door. Are you Reddy to go in?"

"Let's go."

The two figures vanished in the direction of the office. Suddenly one of them tripped over a Rugg. He dropped with a crash the lantern he was supposed to Cary. One of the men muttered a Moen.

"Get back against the Wallace fast as you can!" he whispered. "Turn the Wicklow on that lantern."

"I wonder if the watchman heard that? He might be making his Rounds now. He'd sure raise Kain if he saw us here. I wonder if he'll Chase us? Are you Shurickant see us?"

"Brace against the wall and be quiet. Remember—silence is Golden," the other muttered.

"Gosh, this sure is a Strane waiting here. No one seems to be coming."

They waited a minute and then hurried to the safe. In a moment they had it open.

"There's a cob-Webb across the front. Here's a few Nichols in this box."

The other's face grew Stern. "I hope there's more than that in here."

"Here it is!" called the first. "Cammack here. Here's a lot of dollar bills."

"Aha! We're Poore no longer. What a Schoch they'll have tomorrow Wendy find their money gone. I sure need some money. I haven't seen a Shoefer three Weeks."

"Here's a Rowe of boxes. There's a label on one of them. Reader."

"These boxes are Fuller. Let's take them along. C'mon out of here."

They hurried out to the waiting car.

"What'll I do with these boxes?" one asked.

"Putnam in the back of the car. Get the car started, and Pepper up."

The car rode away into the night.

Official Hoarding Observer's Office

DEAR EDITOR:

I regret to report that I have uncovered nineteen bad cases of hoarding at Central during the past hour. Something Has Got to be Done!! Below is a partial list of the hoarders and what they are hoarding:

1. Bob Lewis—$.25.
 2. George Baker—25 lbs. of old papers.
 3. Joe Sanderson—4 old ties.
 4. Frank Normandy—the secret to success.
 5. Philip Soucheray—we don't know what he's hoarding, but we know he's hoarding.
 6. Jack Wallace—thousands of dollars.
 7. Teachers—black ink—when they're so generous with red.
- Well, you know, I could go on for quite a while, but I don't choose to.

Antihoardingly yours,

PHIL RODENBERG

P. S. Enclosed is $1,000.00 of my money to put in your safe with your fortune as I feel sure it will be safer there than any place else at a time like this.

Sleepers' Club

Central's Sleepers' Club was formally organized fifty years ago yesterday and has been unactive since. The object of the club is to promote enjoyable sleep with nice dreams. The club aims to help its members find the position best suited for undisturbed sleep. To become a member of this wonderful organization, a person must be able to go to sleep in any classroom during any recitation. The officers for the new year are Louis Schuldt and John Heidbrink.

J. S. Lament

I know why I'm so blue, dear,
Dancing here with you, dear,
Got gum on my shoe
What'll I do?
Gosh darn!

It holds me back, I guess, dear,
And it's a perfect mess, dear
Got gum on my shoe
What'll I do?
Gosh darn!

I just can't help deploring
Where people throw their gum.
When it gets stale and boring
They just say, "Ho hum,"
And drop it.

To hit the guy who dropped it here
I'd gladly stay in jail a year.
Got gum on my shoe
What'll I do?
Gosh darn!

Limericks

Johnny had his picture took.
The proofs all had a rotten look.
The retakes worse
And made him curse—
His mug was more than John could brook.

Bobby cut a class one day—
He thought his 'scuse would be okay.
The prof got wise;
His wrath did rise.
"The bench" Bob got, to his dismay.

She loved to dance, she danced divine;
Her eyes were stars, her lips like wine.
But the boys passed her by—
All alone she did sigh.
The cause was this—she lacked a good "line"

His girl said, "Yes", his purse said,
"No".
And what to do, he did not know,
For 'twas too late
To break the date—
Oh, woe—how could he get some dough?

The month of June was drawing near,
And finals, too, would soon appear.
Bill had to cram
For each exam,
And math he took another year.

"Two 'E's' I've got." His voice was grim.
His "D" in French was mighty slim.

"But wait!" he cried.
His gloom soon died—
"I got two 'A's' in shop and gym."

"Can I go home?" young Bob did ask.
"My health—it's very bad."
"I've excused you twice," the teacher
quoth.
"Get back to your seat, my lad."

"What is a rhombus?" teacher asked.
"Or a trapezoid?" she cried.
"A rhombus and a trapezoid—?"
Aw, who cares?" Bob replied.

"Bob, where's your theme?" the teacher called,
"And where's your book report?"
"I wrote no theme—I haven't read
The book," was Bob's retort.

"You're late again," the teacher sighed.
"Why can't you be on time?"
"Well, I—er—studied late last night
And didn't wake till nine."

This happened thrice, and Bob was sent
To drape the Mourner's Bench.
They soon missed Bob, for he had gone
Out gabbing with a wench.

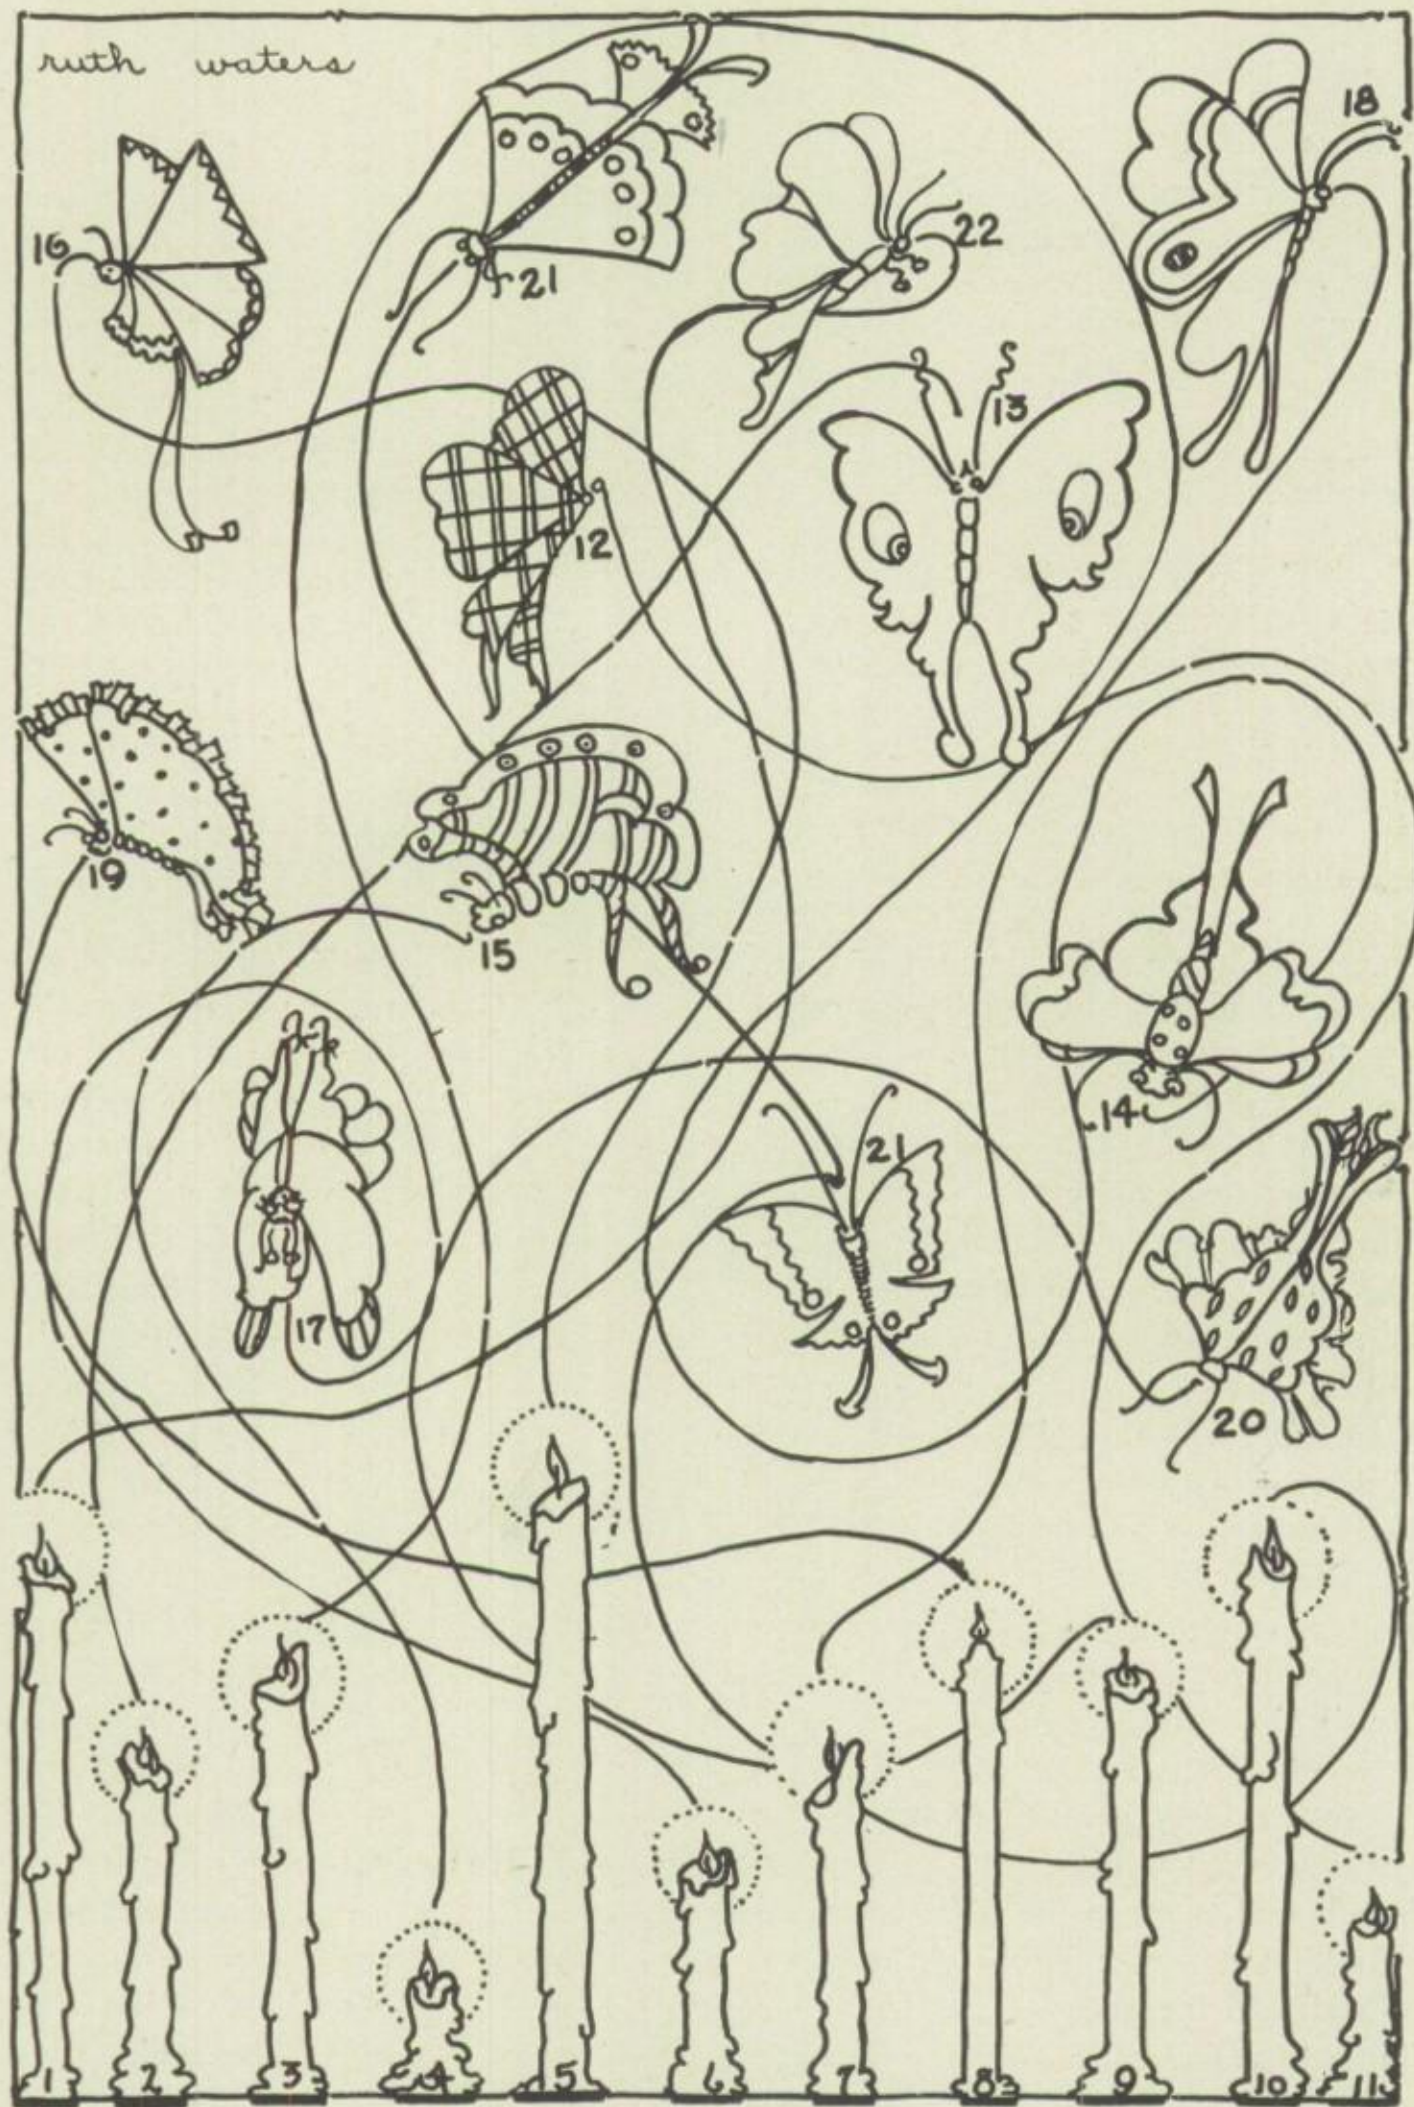

And so through five long years of toil,
The teachers clashed with Bob;
And now when he is through at last—
"Oh, joy!" you hear them sob.

Year 'Round...The "YOUNGER SET" SHOP

IS AN INSTITUTION OF IMPORTANCE TO YOU!

In SPRING it's first with new season prints, with lacy formals, with frocks for Commencement specialized for "Younger Set" budgets!

In SUMMER it's an "outdoor shop" with washable sports things and sheer chiffon dress-up clothes "graduated" in style and thrift!

In FALL it sends you back to school or off to business smartly outfitted for every school, social and business affair.

In WINTER it outfits you in woolly "fresh air" togs, dresses you up for parties, and makes your budget go lots farther!

The Younger Set Shop, on the Third Floor is planned for you, named for you and prepared to bring you best fashions at lowest prices!

THE GOLDEN RULE—Younger Set Shop

IDEAS like airships, come towards us out of the haze. Modern airports have every facility for the convenience of airmen and their crafts. Similarly, we have every modern equipment and years of engraving experience to bring into concrete form the ideas of our hundreds of clients who publish school and college annuals.

Developing a theme for such issues which will thrill whenever seen, and bring back happy memories in years to come, calls for understanding, and a wide range of experience. You will find that sort of understanding and experience, as well as unsurpassed workmanship when you commit your publication to the
